18 Unions Back Wicks For Senate Reelection

Representatives of 18 different unions of the Hudson Valley unanimously pledged their support to Senator Arthur H. Wicks in the coming senatorial election Wednesday evening at a testimonial dinner for the Senator at the Nevele Club in Ellenville.

It was announced in The Freeman on Friday, June 11, that Senator Wicks would be a candidate to succeed himself as the senatorial representative of the 34th district after 28 years of continuous service to the government and people of the State of New York.

There were 200 present at the dinner representing the painter, laborer, boilermaker, electrician, plumber and carpenter unions and the various building trades councils of the valley.

Tribute was paid Senator Wicks for his profound interest in and service to the working people of his district. It was emphasized that through his efforts public works in this area were planned so that when one job was completed another was commenced to provide uninterrupted employment for members of the various crafts.

Introduced Thruway Bill

The senator also was given credit for introducing the bill which provided for the construction of the State Thruway. It was brought out that in the early days of planning for the Thruway through the untiring efforts of Senator Wicks the Thruway was constructed on the west bank of the Hudson instead of the east bank, where it was originally planned to be built.

Senator Wicks in responding to the tributes paid him by the representatives of the various labor unions said that he envisioned Kingston with a future population of 50,000 and asked for a spirit of brotherly love and understanding and the application of the golden rule, so that there would be good will and prosperity for all. He said he would welcome the support of his fellow citizens in the district in the coming election. He emphasized, however, that if they felt they could not vote for him, he would be glad to be of service to them anyway.

Pays Tribute to Wife

The senator paid tribute to his wife, who had spent many hours alone during his 28 years of public service out of the 45 years they were married. Their 45th wedding anniversary is being observed today.

To Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Slutsky, proprietors of the hotel in which the dinner was held, he expressed the great pleasure of their friendship over many years. He also paid tribute to their son, Ben, whom he called "his son," who was the first clerk in his office when he went to Albany 28 years ago.

The chairman of the meeting was George E. Yerry, president of the District Council of Carpenters.

Officials Present

Among the union officials and agents present were:

Stephen Gill, business agent, Painters Local 255 and secretary-treasurer of Ulster-Sullivan Building Trades Council.

C. H. Mayer, business agent, Laborers Local 17.

Thomas J. Mitchell, business agent, Electricians Union 645.

Bidault Has Talks To Save Peace Move

Geneva, June 17 (AP)—French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault plunged into a series of high-level diplomatic talks today in an effort to save the Indochina peace talks from collapse.

Acting on behalf of Joseph Laniel's caretaker government, Bidault saw the top delegates of both western and Communist countries. He planned to fly back to Paris for this afternoon's debate in the National Assembly, when Premier-designate Pierre Mendes-France outlines his policy.

Details His Objectives As 3-Fold

Mendes-France Pleads for Aid—Faces Quiz on Specific Points of Program

Paris, June 17 (AP) — Pierre Mendes-France told the French National Assembly today that if he is voted in as France's new premier, he will offer his resignation if he has not achieved peace in Indochina before July 20.

In pleading for support, Mendes-France offered a three-point program for orienting France along a new national policy. He said his objectives would be:

1. Before July 20, to try for a settlement in Indochina.

2. By this time to submit a "coherent and detailed program for economic recovery." He said he would ask special powers to put the program into effect.

3. Before the parliamentary vacation, to submit propositions giving the Assembly a chance to decide without further delay on France's policy concerning the European army.

Addresses Chamber

Mendes-France spoke before a packed chamber. He was turned down by 13 votes in a similar bid a year ago but he said he believed many who voted against him or abstained might support him now because of a "coming together of views."

After Mendes-France finished, deputies were expected to ask specific questions on his proposed policies. This may take until late tonight.

Mendes-France has announced that after all these questions have been asked, he will ask for a recess until tomorrow when he will give his answer. The vote is not expected before late tomorrow night.

If confirmed, he would become France's 14th premier in the 10 years since liberation, head of the nation's 20th cabinet.

Offers Contract

He said he was offering the deputies a contract. He asserted he would offer his resignation if he failed in any one of the three stages but that Parliament would have to agree to leave him free to work on his projects.

"If the conflict in Indochina is not settled—and settled very quickly—it is the risk of war, of an international war and perhaps an atomic war—that must be envisaged," he said.

"France does not have to accept and will not accept conditions for settlement which would be in conflict with its most vital interests. France will remain in the Far East. Neither our allies, nor our enemies must harbor the least doubt on the meaning of our determination."

Has Studied Files

He told the Assembly he had studied the files on Indochina at length and had talked with diplomatic and military experts.

"My conviction has been confirmed that a peaceful settlement is possible."

Mendes-France did not, however, outline any precise plan for achieving peace or explain how he would change the policies of the government of Premier Joseph Laniel and Foreign Minister Georges Bidault.

Bridge Contractors 'Look Over' Site Of Kingston Span

Bridge Authority Plans Traffic Survey and Study of Revenue for Assistance

Representatives of Merritt, Chapman and Scott of New York, contractors for the substructure of the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge, were in Kingston this week "looking over the ground."

Work is expected to begin in the very near future.

A. K. Burhan, Jr., and J. W. Comer, representatives of the firm, were in the city and examined the site of the proposed $17,000,000 bridge which will span the Hudson river between Kingston and Rhinecliff. They were accompanied by the Kingston Bridge Authority engineer.

Traffic Survey Planned

It was announced yesterday following a meeting of the authority at the local office, 22 Ferry street, that the New York firm of Madigan and Hyland, traffic engineers, would be authorized to "prepare a traffic and revenue study of the authority's existing and proposed facilities in connection with financing of the proposed facilities."

The existing facilities are three bridges spanning the Hudson—Bear Mountain bridge, Mid-Hudson bridge and Rip Van Winkle bridge. Proposed facilities are the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge and the Newburgh-Beacon bridge.

Such a survey would show current and potential volume of bridge travel. Madigan and Hyland have made traffic surveys for the Thruway in this area, a study which will assist them in the bridge study, it is reported. A formal proposal of the work contemplated is expected from the firm before the survey actually begins.

It is believed that sale of bonds for financing construction of the bridge would be promoted by the proposed traffic survey.

It is believed that sale of bonds for financing construction of the bridge would be promoted by the proposed traffic survey.

Bid Approved

The bid of Merritt, Chapman and Scott for the substructure was $4,495,477, more than a million dollars less than the engineer's estimate of the cost of such construction. The bid was approved recently by the New York State Department of Public Works.

The bridge will be a three-lane structure of the flat-deck type. The authority has also announced that triangulation surveys for the Newburgh-Beacon bridge have been completed and that engineers were computing measurements to determine where test borings should be made.

Bids for the superstructure of the bridge, cost of which has been estimated by engineers at $9,100,000, are being asked in advertisements to appear in the press on June 24 and July 1. The bids will be opened at the office of the authority at 2 p. m. Monday, July 26.

Superstructure Plans

The work includes the construction of the steel superstructure and concrete deck of a high level fixed bridge with one 36-foot-wide roadway.

The bridge consists of 2,563 linear feet of approaches having deck plate girder spans varying from 87 feet to 150 feet in length and 5,200 linear feet of truss spans over the river, including two simple truss spans 298.5 feet, two three-span continuous truss (499 feet, 800 feet and 498 feet) over the two river channels and one two-span continuous truss with 498-feet spans.

The principal items of work will include: 24,000,000 pounds of structural steel truss spans, 5,600,000 pounds of structural steel girder spans, 8,700 cubic yards of deck concrete and 1,800,000 pounds of bar reinforcement.

Gardner 'Fair'

The condition of Donald Gardner, 29, of Shokan, was reported as "fair" at the Benedictine Hospital this morning. Gardner, a truck driver, was injured Tuesday night in a car-truck accident on Route 212 near Woodstock, state police reported.

Mediation Team Abandons Talks

Service Director Has Hopes Some Local Settlements Will Result

Washington, June 17 (AP)—Hope for settlement of a six-week-long cement plant strike that has hampered major construction along the eastern seaboard returned to local negotiations today as government mediation efforts collapsed.

A team from the Federal Mediation Service and the New York and Pennsylvania Mediation Boards gave up yesterday after a two-day series of talks with representatives of four cement companies and the striking AFL United Lime, Cement and Gypsum Worker's Union.

Whitley P. Coy, director of the Mediation Service, said the only hope appeared to be that the talks here would lead to some local settlements.

4,000 Are Idled

About 4,000 workers have been idled by the strike, which has stalled progress on the New York State Thruway and other major construction jobs in Pennsylvania and New England.

Thirty plants of the Lehigh Portland, Alpha Portland, Universal-Atlas and North American Cement companies are involved. The struck plants are in upstate New York, eastern Pennsylvania, Maine, Maryland, Virginia and Florida.

The firms are reported to be offering a five cent hourly wage increase, but refusing a union demand that the boost be retroactive.

Budget Is Approved

Binghamton, June 17 (AP)—The United Lutheran Synod of New York and New England has approved the largest annual budget in its history. Delegates from the Synod's 385 member congregations, meeting in annual convention here, yesterday gave final approval to a fiscal plan calling for $1,078,900 in expenditures—about a quarter of a million dollars more than last year. Eleven men were ordained to the ministry last night. They include Harold James Harter of Hicksville, L. I., and Erich W. Walbeck of Freeport, L. I. The four-day convention ends today.

Help Is Asked

Tegucigalpa, Honduras, June 17 (AP) — Guatemala called on Honduras last night to stop anti-Red Guatemalan exiles reported massing on the border for an assault against President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman's Communist-influenced regime. The appeal was made by Guatemalan Ambassador Amadeo Chinchilla to Honduran Foreign Minister J. Edgardo Valenzuela as reports here and in other central American nations indicated a showdown might be imminent between the Arbenz government and its anti-Communist opposition at home and abroad.

Leaders May Press Governor to Run For Office Again

Senator Ives Voices His Reluctance Following News Accounts on Dewey

Albany, June 17 (AP)—Republican leaders in the state today were reluctant to accept as final the increasing reports that Gov. Dewey has decided not to seek reelection next fall.

Although several high ranking party members feared the reports were true, it was understood that they felt Dewey could be persuaded to yield to party pressure to head the ticket once more.

One informed source said, however, that if Dewey announced his retirement, probably no amount of importuning would cause him to change.

Three newspapers in the state yesterday published different accounts of Dewey's political future. But all, attributing their information to high sources, agreed on one point—the governor would not seek reelection.

Dewey himself declined comment.

Heck Thinks So

Assemblyman speaker Oswald D. Heck said today: "While I may be wrong, I think that when the chips are down the governor is going to run."

Heck, who would be willing to accept the nomination for the lieutenant governorship only if

Weaver May Work With Local Youths

West Point Graduate Likely to Get Summer Job in Recreation

Ed Weaver, one of Kingston's best known athletes, may join the city's Recreation Department staff for a five or six-week period this summer.

Lt. Weaver, newly-commissioned by the army, graduated this year from the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, where he played varsity football and basketball. Prior to his entry to the Point, Weaver was one of Kingston High School's all-time great athletes.

No confirmation could be obtained today, but speculation is that Weaver will be appointed to a special temporary assignment on the Recreation Department staff by Mayor Frederick H. Stang shortly after the latter returns from the mayor's conference at Monticello. The Recreation Department is expected to back the appointment and is known to be happy over the prospect of having Weaver's services during whatever time he may be available on leave from army duties this summer.

City Seeks PSC Vote on Viaduct

Chicago Balloon Lands in County Strawberry Patch

Mrs. A. Harold Trowbridge of Olive Bridge visited her strawberry patch early Monday morning, trailed by her small daughter.

"Well," said Mrs. Trowbridge to her daughter, spying a white balloon tangled in the strawberry bushes, "Daddy buys you balloons and you throw them around. Just a minute and I'll get it for you."

Well, it turned out the balloon had just dropped in from Chicago. It floated down with its 12-inch string and caught in the berry patch.

Had Card Attached

It was about the size of a "basketball" and had a card attached to the string. The card said:

"I am a Cub Scout entered in a balloon derby at Indian Boundary District Cub Hub-Bub. Will finder of this souvenir please tear off the perforated card at the bottom and mail it back to me? Thank you. A Cub Scout. Robert Levy, 5209 Winona street, Chicago 30, Illinois."

Mrs. Trowbridge said today the balloon had deflated somewhat. She supposed it must have had some kind of light gas, perhaps helium, in it.

"I'm going to send back the card," she said. When she returns it she's going to ask Cub Scout Levy, if he will write to her and tell her how his balloon got into her strawberry patch.

Will Represent President

Elimination Now Is Sought of Span Over Tracks Uptown

The city of Kingston will ask the State Public Service Commission for permission to eliminate the controversial Washington avenue viaduct "within the next couple of weeks."

Corporation Counsel James J. Abernethy said today he had been collecting data and would be ready shortly to present a petition to abolish the 50-year-old structure which feeds the Onteora Trail over the tracks of the Ulster and Delaware Railroad.

Schedules Hearing

After the petition is presented the PSC schedules a public hearing which, in this instance, would probably be held in Kingston.

Abernethy said the city must prove to the commission's satisfaction that the "public need" would be served better by the elimination rather than retention of the structure.

Common Council authorized the corporation counsel to prepare such a petition at its May meeting. Council took action following receipt of a letter from Mayor Frederick H. Stang asking that a proceeding be brought before the PSC.

Stang's Proposal

Stang proposed that the city ask for elimination of the viaduct and "making a crossing at grade."

He explained that "if this were accomplished we could then properly make application to the Thruway Authority to have Washington avenue extended to the

Local Red Cross Told to Be Ready For Emergencies

Worcester Director Speaks to Annual Meeting of Ulster County Chapter

Victor C. Passage, executive director of the Worcester Chapter, American Red Cross, and formerly connected with Red Cross in Washington and as disaster director of major Red Cross relief operations throughout the United States, was the speaker at the annual meeting of the Ulster County Chapter, last evening.

As director of Red Cross operations during the disastrous tornado in Worcester, Mass., where 4,000 families were affected, 94 died and more than 1,300 persons were injured he ministered to 10,000 persons. Last evening he brought a graphic account of that disaster relief work which was rendered by Red Cross. He also referred to other Red Cross participation in various parts of the country where disaster has struck through floods, fire, earthquake and winds.

Cites Responsibilities

In his talk Passage said Red Cross had three important responsibilities, Home Service to men in the services and to their families, Disaster Relief Work and raising of funds to take care of these needs.

He warned the local chapter members to be ready for any emergency and referred to his own experiences, saying that since New England had not suffered from tornado in many years residents felt they were safe from that type of disaster. The Worcester incident proved how wrong one could be and the need for emergency preparation.

At the conclusion of his talk, a film taken by an amateur photographer at the Worcester disaster was shown. The film showed the extent of the disaster and the quick participation of Red Cross, some of the shots being taken within a few minutes of the time the wind struck.

McCarthy Raps Democrats For Lengthening Hearings

Washington, June 17 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy asserted today the lengthy hearings on the Army-McCarthy row were promoted by the Democrats and that the Democrats "will suffer and bleed because of it."

It was one of numerous thrusts with a political tinge which came into the 36th, and possibly final, day of the McCarthy-Army hearings.

Sen. Symington (D-Mo.) accused Sen. Mundt (R-S.D.), presiding at the hearings, of making "unjust" and partisan remarks that would end the explosive inquiry on a "sad" note.

Symington flung his accusation after Mundt with caustic humor had raised the question of what role Clark M. Clifford, once legal advisor to former President Truman, may have played at Symington's suggestion in setting off the army's charges against the McCarthy camp.

Mundt said it should be recalled that Clifford and Symington "are fellow Democrats, fellow Missourians" and that at Symington's advice Clifford gave advice to Republican Secretary of the Army Stevens that might normally be expected to be "in a different vein" than a Republican lawyer might have given.

In reply to Symington, Mundt said he was attributing no impropriety to Stevens' conferring with Clifford. Stevens had a perfect right to do this, Mundt said, adding:

"I have no quarrel with the intriguing way in which politics is played."

Joseph N. Welch, the army's special counsel, said that in fairness Stevens should be permitted to submit a statement on this point if he so desired.

Mundt said he would be very glad to let him do so. When Symington suggested a motion to that effect, Mundt said it was unnecessary, that "we can do that on general consent."

McCarthy was in the witness chair and, from time to time, got questions bearing on the main issue of the hearings: The truth or falsity of the army charges that he and his aides exerted improper pressures for

22 Children Are Injured When School Bus Overturns

Troy, June 17 (AP)—Twenty-two children were injured today when their school bus overturned after a collision with a dump truck just east of Troy.

Two of the injured were detained at Samaritan Hospital. They were Helen Coonradt, 15, of Quackenkill, who suffered back and shoulder injuries, and Patricia Suwalski, 15, of Cropseyville, who suffered possible internal injuries.

The others were discharged after treatment.

State police held the truck driver for questioning. He was identified as James Leemey, 63, of Albany.

The bus, operated by the Troy-Fifth Avenue Bus Co., was carrying 34 children to various schools.

The accident occurred on the Troy-Eagle Mills road, a quarter of a mile outside the city.

State police said an unidentified woman driving from Troy to Brunswick Hills section halted to make a turn into the residential area, and a truck, traveling in back of her, attempted to stop suddenly. Police said the truck skidded and hit the school bus, which turned on its side in a ditch.

Children left the bus through the rear emergency door and the windshield, which the driver, John Ducharme of Cohoes, knocked out.

The bus was carrying pupils to Troy High School, St. Francis de Sales School, School 14 and to La Salle Institute, a private high school for boys.

Three Young Folk Hurt In Accident in Dutchess

Three young people were injured when the automobile in which they were riding ran off a town road near Red Hook and crashed into a tree, state police reported.

Troopers of the Rhinebeck station said the driver, Karl Webster, 18, of Ghent, and his passengers, Marilyn Lasher, 17, of Tivoli, and Dorothy Cookingham, 16, of Brainard, were treated by a local physician and sent to the Northern Dutchess Health Center.

Summonses were issued against Webster on charges of driving at a dangerous speed and not having insurance, troopers said. They are returnable before a justice of the peace at Red Hook after Webster is released from the hospital.

The accident occurred about 10 p. m. Wednesday about a mile south of Route 9G, when the automobile failed to negotiate a right curve, slid off the road and hit a tree headon, troopers reported. Full extent of the injuries was not available this morning, but hospital authorities said all three were admitted. Their parents were notified by state police.

Criticizes Employers

New York, June 17 (AP) — Dr. William S. Carlson, president of the University of the State of New York, today criticized employers who "lure young people straight from high school into offices and plants." "That is what is happening to hundreds of thousands of our young people who are qualified to benefit from and who deserve a higher education," he said. Dr. Carlson spoke at commencement exercises of the Fashion Institute of Technology, a unit of the State University. Degrees of associate in applied science were conferred on 158 young men who completed the two-year course.

Bridge Contractors 'Look Over' Site Of Kingston Span

Bridge Authority Plans Traffic Survey and Study of Revenue for Assistance

Representatives of Merritt, Chapman and Scott of New York, contractors for the substructure of the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge, were in Kingston this week "looking over the ground."

Work is expected to begin in the very near future.

A. K. Burhan, Jr., and J. W. Comer, representatives of the firm, were in the city and examined the site of the proposed $17,000,000 bridge which will span the Hudson river between Kingston and Rhinecliff. They were accompanied by the Kingston Bridge Authority engineer.

Traffic Survey Planned

It was announced yesterday following a meeting of the authority at the local office, 22 Ferry street, that the New York firm of Madigan and Hyland, traffic engineers, would be authorized to "prepare a traffic and revenue study of the authority's existing and proposed facilities in connection with financing of the proposed facilities."

The existing facilities are three bridges spanning the Hudson—Bear Mountain bridge, Mid-Hudson bridge and Rip Van Winkle bridge. Proposed facilities are the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge and the Newburgh-Beacon bridge.

Madigan and Hyland have made traffic surveys for the Thruway in this area, a study which will assist them in the bridge study, it is reported. It is believed that sale of bonds for financing construction of the bridge would be promoted by the proposed traffic survey.

Working Folk of District Pay Tribute to Service; Senator Envisions Growth

Representatives of 18 different unions of the Hudson Valley unanimously pledged their support to Senator Arthur H. Wicks in the coming senatorial election Wednesday evening at a testimonial dinner for the Senator at the Nevele Club in Ellenville.

It was announced in The Freeman on Friday, June 11, that Senator Wicks would be a candidate to succeed himself as the senatorial representative of the 34th district after 28 years of continuous service to the government and people of the State of New York.

There were 200 present at the dinner representing the painter, laborer, boilermaker, electrician, plumber and carpenter unions and the various building trades councils of the valley.

Tribute was paid Senator Wicks for his profound interest in and service to the working people of his district. It was emphasized that through his efforts public works in this area were planned so that when one job was completed another was commenced to provide uninterrupted employment for members of the various crafts.

Introduced Thruway Bill

The senator also was given credit for introducing the bill which provided for the construction of the State Thruway. It was brought out that in the early days of planning for the Thruway through the untiring efforts of Senator Wicks the Thruway was constructed on the west bank of the Hudson instead of the east bank, where it was originally planned to be built.

Senator Wicks in responding to the tributes paid him by the representatives of the various labor unions said that he envisioned Kingston with a future population of 50,000 and asked for a spirit of brotherly love and understanding and the application of the golden rule, so that there would be good will and prosperity for all. He said he would welcome the support of his fellow citizens in the district in the coming election. He emphasized, however, that if they felt they could not vote for him, he would be glad to be of service to them anyway.

Pays Tribute to Wife

The senator paid tribute to his wife, who had spent many hours alone during his 28 years of public service out of the 45 years they were married. Their 45th wedding anniversary is being observed today.

To Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Slutsky, proprietors of the hotel in which the dinner was held, he expressed the great pleasure of their friendship over many years. He also paid tribute to their son, Ben, whom he called "his son," who was the first clerk in his office when he went to Albany 28 years ago.

The chairman of the meeting was George E. Yerry, president of the District Council of Carpenters.

Officials Present

Among the union officials and agents present were:

Stephen Gill, business agent, Painters Local 255 and secretary-treasurer of Ulster-Sullivan Building Trades Council.

C. H. Mayer, business agent, Laborers Local 17.

Joseph Rodden, president Boilermakers Local 720 and vice president Kingston Metal Trades Council.

4,000 Are Idled

About 4,000 workers have been idled by the strike, which has stalled progress on the New York State Thruway and other major construction jobs in Pennsylvania and New England.

Thirty plants of the Lehigh Portland, Alpha Portland, Universal-Atlas and North American Cement companies are involved. The struck plants are in upstate New York, eastern Pennsylvania, Maine, Maryland, Virginia and Florida.

The firms are reported to be offering a five cent hourly wage increase, but refusing a union demand that the boost be retroactive.

Budget Is Approved

Binghamton, June 17 (AP)—The United Lutheran Synod of New York and New England has approved the largest annual budget in its history. Delegates from the Synod's 385 member congregations, meeting in annual convention here, yesterday gave final approval to a fiscal plan calling for $1,078,900 in expenditures—about a quarter of a million dollars more than last year. Eleven men were ordained to the ministry last night. They include Harold James Harter of Hicksville, L. I., and Erich W. Walbeck of Freeport, L. I. The four-day convention ends today.

Help Is Asked

Tegucigalpa, Honduras, June 17 (AP)—Guatemala called on Honduras last night to stop anti-Red Guatemalan exiles reported massing on the border for an assault against President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman's Communist-influenced regime. The appeal was made by Guatemalan Ambassador Amadeo Chinchilla to Honduran Foreign Minister J. Edgardo Valenzuela as reports here and in other central American nations indicated a showdown might be imminent between the Arbenz government and its anti-Communist opposition at home and abroad.

Bidault Has Talks To Save Peace Move

Geneva, June 17 (AP)—French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault plunged into a series of high-level diplomatic talks today in an effort to save the Indochina peace talks from collapse.

Acting on behalf of Joseph Laniel's caretaker government, Bidault saw the top delegates of both western and Communist countries. He planned to fly back to Paris for this afternoon's debate in the National Assembly, when Premier-designate Pierre Mendes-France outlines his policy.

Details His Objectives As 3-Fold

Mendes-France Pleads for Aid—Faces Quiz on Specific Points of Program

Paris, June 17 (AP) — Pierre Mendes-France told the French National Assembly today that if he is voted in as France's new premier, he will offer his resignation if he has not achieved peace in Indochina before July 20.

In pleading for support, Mendes-France offered a three-point program for orienting France along a new national policy. He said his objectives would be:

1. Before July 20, to try for a settlement in Indochina.

2. By this time to submit a "coherent and detailed program for economic recovery." He said he would ask special powers to put the program into effect.

3. Before the parliamentary vacation, to submit propositions giving the Assembly a chance to decide without further delay on France's policy concerning the European army.

Addresses Chamber

Mendes-France spoke before a packed chamber. He was turned down by 13 votes in a similar bid a year ago but he said he believed many who voted against him or abstained might support him now because of a "coming together of views."

After Mendes-France finished, deputies were expected to ask specific questions on his proposed policies. This may take until late tonight.

Mendes-France has announced that after all these questions have been asked, he will ask for a recess until tomorrow when he will give his answer. The vote is not expected before late tomorrow night.

If confirmed, he would become France's 14th premier in the 10 years since liberation, head of the nation's 20th cabinet.

Offers Contract

He said he was offering the deputies a contract. He asserted he would offer his resignation if he failed in any one of the three stages but that Parliament would have to agree to leave him free to work on his projects.

"If the conflict in Indochina is not settled—and settled very quickly—it is the risk of war, of an international war and perhaps an atomic war—that must be envisaged," he said.

"France does not have to accept and will not accept conditions for settlement which would be in conflict with its most vital interests. France will remain in the Far East. Neither our allies, nor our enemies must harbor the least doubt on the meaning of our determination."

Has Studied Files

He told the Assembly he had studied the files on Indochina at length and had talked with diplomatic and military experts.

"My conviction has been confirmed that a peaceful settlement is possible."

Mendes-France did not, however, outline any precise plan for achieving peace or explain how he would change the policies of the government of Premier Joseph Laniel and Foreign Minister Georges Bidault.

Criticizes Employers

New York, June 17 (AP) — Dr. William S. Carlson, president of the University of the State of New York, today criticized employers who "lure young people straight from high school into offices and plants." "That is what is happening to hundreds of thousands of our young people who are qualified to benefit from and who deserve a higher education," he said. Dr. Carlson spoke at commencement exercises of the Fashion Institute of Technology, a unit of the State University. Degrees of associate in applied science were conferred on 158 young men who completed the two-year course.

Leaders May Press Governor to Run For Office Again

Senator Ives Voices His Reluctance Following News Accounts on Dewey

Albany, June 17 (AP)—Republican leaders in the state today were reluctant to accept as final the increasing reports that Gov. Dewey has decided not to seek reelection next fall.

Although several high ranking party members feared the reports were true, it was understood that they felt Dewey could be persuaded to yield to party pressure to head the ticket once more.

One informed source said, however, that if Dewey announced his retirement, probably no amount of importuning would cause him to change.

Three newspapers in the state yesterday published different accounts of Dewey's political future. But all, attributing their information to high sources, agreed on one point—the governor would not seek reelection.

Dewey himself declined comment.

Heck Thinks So

Assemblyman speaker Oswald D. Heck said today: "While I may be wrong, I think that when the chips are down the governor is going to run."

Heck, who would be willing to accept the nomination for the lieutenant governorship only if

Weaver May Work With Local Youths

West Point Graduate Likely to Get Summer Job in Recreation

Ed Weaver, one of Kingston's best known athletes, may join the city's Recreation Department staff for a five or six-week period this summer.

Lt. Weaver, newly-commissioned by the army, graduated this year from the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, where he played varsity football and basketball. Prior to his entry to the Point, Weaver was one of Kingston High School's all-time great athletes.

No confirmation could be obtained today, but speculation is that Weaver will be appointed to a special temporary assignment on the Recreation Department staff by Mayor Frederick H. Stang shortly after the latter returns from the mayor's conference at Monticello. The Recreation Department is expected to back the appointment and is known to be happy over the prospect of having Weaver's services during whatever time he may be available on leave from army duties this summer.

City Seeks PSC Vote on Viaduct

Chicago Balloon Lands in County Strawberry Patch

Mrs. A. Harold Trowbridge of Olive Bridge visited her strawberry patch early Monday morning, trailed by her small daughter.

"Well," said Mrs. Trowbridge to her daughter, spying a white balloon tangled in the strawberry bushes, "Daddy buys you balloons and you throw them around. Just a minute and I'll get it for you."

Well, it turned out the balloon had just dropped in from Chicago. It floated down with its 12-inch string and caught in the berry patch.

Had Card Attached

It was about the size of a "basketball" and had a card attached to the string. The card said:

"I am a Cub Scout entered in a balloon derby at Indian Boundary District Cub Hub-Bub. Will finder of this souvenir please tear off the perforated card at the bottom and mail it back to me? Thank you. A Cub Scout. Robert Levy, 5209 Winona street, Chicago 30, Illinois."

Mrs. Trowbridge said today the balloon had deflated somewhat. She supposed it must have had some kind of light gas, perhaps helium, in it.

"I'm going to send back the card," she said. When she returns it she's going to ask Cub Scout Levy, if he will write to her and tell her how his balloon got into her strawberry patch.

Will Represent President

Elimination Now Is Sought of Span Over Tracks Uptown

The city of Kingston will ask the State Public Service Commission for permission to eliminate the controversial Washington avenue viaduct "within the next couple of weeks."

Corporation Counsel James J. Abernethy said today he had been collecting data and would be ready shortly to present a petition to abolish the 50-year-old structure which feeds the Onteora Trail over the tracks of the Ulster and Delaware Railroad.

Schedules Hearing

After the petition is presented the PSC schedules a public hearing which, in this instance, would probably be held in Kingston.

Abernethy said the city must prove to the commission's satisfaction that the "public need" would be served better by the elimination rather than retention of the structure.

Common Council authorized the corporation counsel to prepare such a petition at its May meeting. Council took action following receipt of a letter from Mayor Frederick H. Stang asking that a proceeding be brought before the PSC.

Stang's Proposal

Stang proposed that the city ask for elimination of the viaduct and "making a crossing at grade."

He explained that "if this were accomplished we could then properly make application to the Thruway Authority to have Washington avenue extended to the

Local Red Cross Told to Be Ready For Emergencies

Worcester Director Speaks to Annual Meeting of Ulster County Chapter

Victor C. Passage, executive director of the Worcester Chapter, American Red Cross, and formerly connected with Red Cross in Washington and as disaster director of major Red Cross relief operations throughout the United States, was the speaker at the annual meeting of the Ulster County Chapter, last evening.

As director of Red Cross operations during the disastrous tornado in Worcester, Mass., where 4,000 families were affected, 94 died and more than 1,300 persons were injured he ministered to 10,000 persons. Last evening he brought a graphic account of that disaster relief work which was rendered by Red Cross. He also referred to other Red Cross participation in various parts of the country where disaster has struck through floods, fire, earthquake and winds.

Cites Responsibilities

In his talk Passage said Red Cross had three important responsibilities, Home Service to men in the services and to their families, Disaster Relief Work and raising of funds to take care of these needs.

He warned the local chapter members to be ready for any emergency and referred to his own experiences, saying that since New England had not suffered from tornado in many years residents felt they were safe from that type of disaster. The Worcester incident proved how wrong one could be and the need for emergency preparation.

At the conclusion of his talk, a film taken by an amateur photographer at the Worcester disaster was shown. The film showed the extent of the disaster and the quick participation of Red Cross, some of the shots being taken within a few minutes of the time the wind struck.

McCarthy Raps Democrats For Lengthening Hearings

Washington, June 17 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy asserted today the lengthy hearings on the Army-McCarthy row were promoted by the Democrats and that the Democrats "will suffer and bleed because of it."

It was one of numerous thrusts with a political tinge which came into the 36th, and possibly final, day of the McCarthy-Army hearings.

Sen. Symington (D-Mo.) accused Sen. Mundt (R-S.D.), presiding at the hearings, of making "unjust" and partisan remarks that would end the explosive inquiry on a "sad" note.

Symington flung his accusation after Mundt with caustic humor had raised the question of what role Clark M. Clifford, once legal advisor to former President Truman, may have played at Symington's suggestion in setting off the army's charges against the McCarthy camp.

Mundt said it should be recalled that Clifford and Symington "are fellow Democrats, fellow Missourians" and that at Symington's advice Clifford gave advice to Republican Secretary of the Army Stevens that might normally be expected to be "in a different vein" than a Republican lawyer might have given.

In reply to Symington, Mundt said he was attributing no impropriety to Stevens' conferring with Clifford. Stevens had a perfect right to do this, Mundt said, adding:

"I have no quarrel with the intriguing way in which politics is played."

Joseph N. Welch, the army's special counsel, said that in fairness Stevens should be permitted to submit a statement on this point if he so desired.

Mundt said he would be very glad to let him do so. When Symington suggested a motion to that effect, Mundt said it was unnecessary, that "we can do that on general consent."

McCarthy was in the witness chair and, from time to time, got questions bearing on the main issue of the hearings: The truth or falsity of the army charges that he and his aides exerted improper pressures for

22 Children Are Injured When School Bus Overturns

Troy, June 17 (AP)—Twenty-two children were injured today when their school bus overturned after a collision with a dump truck just east of Troy.

Two of the injured were detained at Samaritan Hospital. They were Helen Coonradt, 15, of Quackenkill, who suffered back and shoulder injuries, and Patricia Suwalski, 15, of Cropseyville, who suffered possible internal injuries.

The others were discharged after treatment.

State police held the truck driver for questioning. He was identified as James Leemey, 63, of Albany.

The bus, operated by the Troy-Fifth Avenue Bus Co., was carrying 34 children to various schools.

The accident occurred on the Troy-Eagle Mills road, a quarter of a mile outside the city.

State police said an unidentified woman driving from Troy to Brunswick Hills section halted to make a turn into the residential area, and a truck, traveling in back of her, attempted to stop suddenly. Police said the truck skidded and hit the school bus, which turned on its side in a ditch.

Children left the bus through the rear emergency door and the windshield, which the driver, John Ducharme of Cohoes, knocked out.

The bus was carrying pupils to Troy High School, St. Francis de Sales School, School 14 and to La Salle Institute, a private high school for boys.

Three Young Folk Hurt In Accident in Dutchess

Three young people were injured when the automobile in which they were riding ran off a town road near Red Hook and crashed into a tree, state police reported.

Troopers of the Rhinebeck station said the driver, Karl Webster, 18, of Ghent, and his passengers, Marilyn Lasher, 17, of Tivoli, and Dorothy Cookingham, 16, of Brainard, were treated by a local physician and sent to the Northern Dutchess Health Center.

Summonses were issued against Webster on charges of driving at a dangerous speed and not having insurance, troopers said. They are returnable before a justice of the peace at Red Hook after Webster is released from the hospital.

The accident occurred about 10 p. m. Wednesday about a mile south of Route 9G, when the automobile failed to negotiate a right curve, slid off the road and hit a tree headon, troopers reported. Full extent of the injuries was not available this morning, but hospital authorities said all three were admitted. Their parents were notified by state police.

Who's Crazy?

Long Beach, Calif. (AP)—One patient of a young psychiatrist at the veterans hospital was always telling him about the "banana lady" who came to see him every day just before the doctor came in. The psychiatrist considered this a symptom of mental trouble and entered it on his report. Then he saw a cart laden with bananas passing his desk. When he asked the nurse what it was, she explained that a civic group periodically distributes bananas to the patients. "Oh, my gosh. Now, I'll have to do my whole case history over again, the doctor said.

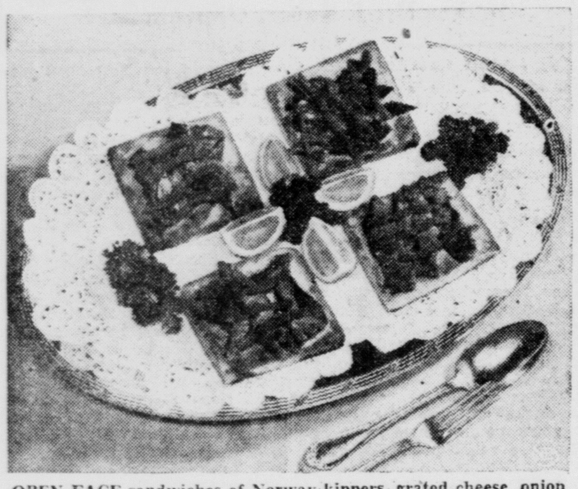
AMERICAN MENU

Tasty Norway Kippers Pep Up Familiar Dishes



OPEN-FACE sandwiches of Norway kippers, grated cheese, onion and pimento will bring you a new taste thrill.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Kippers—those lightly smoked fillets of herring caught in the Norwegian fjords—give a new magic flavor accent to some of our familiar American dishes.

We had them last week at a party, used in open-faced sandwiches. Our hostess, a woman noted for her entertaining, gave us her family recipe.

Kippered Open Sandwiches (Yield: 2 to 4 servings)

One (3¼-ounce) can Norway kippers, 4 slices bread, ½ cup grated Cheddar cheese, 2 teaspoons finely grated onion, 1 canned pimiento, 1 tablespoon lemon juice.

Toast the bread on one side only. Mix the cheese with the grated onion and spread on untoasted side of bread. Arrange pieces of kippers over cheese. Cut pimiento into strips and arrange crosswise over kippers. Sprinkle with lemon juice. Broil until topping is hot. Serve at once.

These kippers, by the way, are very inexpensive and come in aluminum cans that are unusually easy to open.

With eggs on the list of June plentiful foods, and kippers so cheap, here's a budget breakfast surprise:

Kippers and Shirred Eggs

One (3¼-ounce) can Norway kippers, 2 eggs, ½-ounce butter or margarine, 1 tablespoon bread crumbs, salt, pepper to taste.

Butter a ramekin lightly and sprinkle with bread crumbs. Empty the contents of one can of kippers and place in ramekin. Over the kippers, break two eggs. Bake in 350-degree F. oven for 30 minutes or cook on top of stove over a low fire. Garnish with fresh parsley and serve in ramekin.

Here are two more ways to use them:

Sunday Supper Dish: Dilute 1 can condensed mushroom soup with 2/3 cup of milk; add diced Norway kippers. Heat. Serve on seasoned buttered cooked noodles.

Saturday Lunch: Add diced Norway kippers to your favorite tossed green salad. Serve with cheese biscuits for a delicious Saturday lunch.

* * *

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Melon cup, shirred eggs with Norway kippers, whipped potatoes, fresh asparagus, crusty rolls, butter or margarine, lettuce, onion, tomato salad, French dressing, lemon meringue pie, coffee, tea, milk.

Bard College will hold its 94th Commencement Exercises on Saturday afternoon, June 19, at 2 o'clock. It is also the 10th anniversary of co-education on the Annandale campus. The principal address will be given by Ernest Angell, New York attorney and chairman of the board of directors of the American Civil Liberties Union who will speak on "The Search for Security." Twenty-nine seniors will receive diplomas and three honorary degrees will be conferred.

Decides Two Things

Knoxville, Tenn., June 17 (AP)—Fourteen-year-old Mack Garrett has decided two things: Wrestling isn't what it's cracked up to be and women aren't the weaker sex. It started when Mack and his 11-year-old sister, Anna, decided to imitate a pair of wrestlers they'd been watching on television. Anna applied an armlock and Mack went flying over her shoulders. The hospital reported last night that Mack's left arm was broken.

Hearing Scheduled On Labor Charges

Saratoga Springs, June 17 (AP)—The State Labor Relation Board has scheduled a public hearing here June 29 to weigh three charges of unfair labor practices brought against the Saratoga Harness Racing Assn.

A complaint based on charges filed by the AFL Sports Arena Employes Union, was issued by the board in New York city yesterday.

It alleged that the association, operator of Saratoga raceway, had refused to hire 38 employes who had been denied jobs since last September, had interfered with employes' organizing rights and had refused to bargain with the union.

The union, which claims 18 members among the track's 123 pari-mutuel clerks, called a protest strike Monday."

For the past three nights, pickets have been at track entrances but they have not tried to bar entrance to the raceway. Racing and betting have continued as usual.

Wiswall Not Concerned

The president of the Racing Association, Frank L. Wiswall, said he was "not a bit concerned" about the Labor Board's action. Wiswall said the serving of the complaint was a "routine matter under the State Labor law" and the charges would be "clearly demonstrated to be untrue."

The association is awaiting court action on its request for an injunction against the picketing. Justice Harry E. Shirick has reserved decision.

The Labor Board had scheduled a hearing today in Albany on a raceway petition for a new bargaining election at the track, but the hearing was postponed until June 23. The AFL Union was certified last August as a bargaining agent for the pari-mutuel clerks.

Although the sun shines 24 hours a day at Point Barrow, Alaska, during July, the temperature averages 39 degrees Fahrenheit during that month.

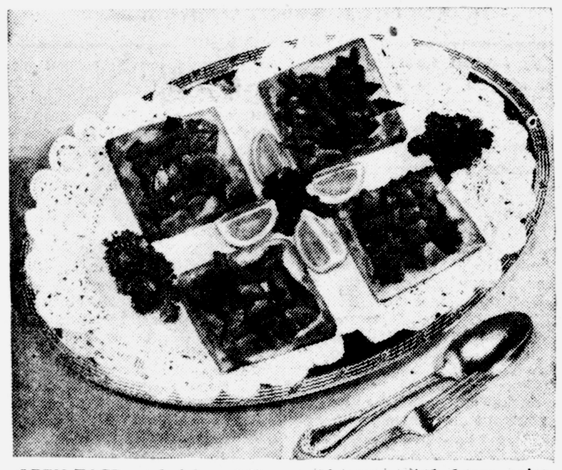
AMERICAN MENU

Tasty Norway Kippers Pep Up Familiar Dishes



OPEN-FACE sandwiches of Norway kippers, grated cheese, onion and pimento will bring you a new taste thrill.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Kippers—those lightly smoked fillets of herring caught in the Norwegian fjords—give a new magic flavor accent to some of our familiar American dishes.

We had them last week at a party, used in open-faced sandwiches. Our hostess, a woman noted for her entertaining, gave us her family recipe.

Kippered Open Sandwiches
(Yield: 2 to 4 servings)

One (3¼-ounce) can Norway kippers, 4 slices bread, ½ cup grated Cheddar cheese, 2 teaspoons finely grated onion, 1 canned pimiento, 1 tablespoon lemon juice.

Toast the bread on one side only. Mix the cheese with the grated onion and spread on untoasted side of bread. Arrange pieces of kippers over cheese. Cut pimiento into strips and arrange crosswise over kippers. Sprinkle with lemon juice. Broil until topping is hot. Serve at once.

These kippers, by the way, are very inexpensive and come in aluminum cans that are unusually easy to open.

With eggs on the list of June plentiful foods, and kippers so cheap, here's a budget breakfast surprise:

Kippers and Shirred Eggs

One (3¼-ounce) can Norway kippers, 2 eggs, ½-ounce butter or margarine, 1 tablespoon bread crumbs, salt, pepper to taste.

Butter a ramekin lightly and sprinkle with bread crumbs. Empty the contents of one can of kippers and place in ramekin. Over the kippers, break two eggs. Bake in 350-degree F. oven for 30 minutes or cook on top of stove over a low fire. Garnish with fresh parsley and serve in ramekin.

Here are two more ways to use them:

Sunday Supper Dish: Dilute 1 can condensed mushroom soup with 2/3 cup of milk; add diced Norway kippers. Heat. Serve on seasoned buttered cooked noodles.

Saturday Lunch: Add diced Norway kippers to your favorite tossed green salad. Serve with cheese biscuits for a delicious Saturday lunch.

Bard Plans Commencement

Bard College will hold its 94th Commencement Exercises on Saturday afternoon, June 19, at 2 o'clock. The occasion marks the 90th anniversary of Bard's unusual plan of individualized education first installed by Nicholas Murray Butler in 1934. It is also the 10th anniversary of coeducation on the Annandale campus. The principal address will be given by Ernest Angell, New York attorney and chairman of the board of directors of the American Civil Liberties Union who will speak on "The Search for Security." Twenty-nine seniors will receive diplomas and three honorary degrees will be conferred.

Decides Two Things

Knoxville, Tenn., June 17 (AP)—Fourteen-year-old Mack Garrett has decided two things: Wrestling isn't what it's cracked up to be and women aren't the weaker sex. It started when Mack and his 11-year-old sister, Anna, decided to imitate a pair of wrestlers they'd been watching on television. Anna applied an armlock and Mack went flying over her shoulders. The hospital reported last night that Mack's left arm was broken.

Hearing Scheduled On Labor Charges

Saratoga Springs, June 17 (AP)—The State Labor Relation Board has scheduled a public hearing here June 29 to weigh three charges of unfair labor practices brought against the Saratoga Harness Racing Assn.

A complaint based on charges filed by the AFL Sports Arena Employes Union, was issued by the board in New York city yesterday.

It alleged that the association, operator of Saratoga raceway, had refused to hire 38 employes who had been denied jobs since last September, had interfered with employes' organizing rights and had refused to bargain with the union.

The union, which claims 18 members among the track's 123 pari-mutuel clerks, called a protest strike Monday."

For the past three nights, pickets have been at track entrances but they have not tried to bar entrance to the raceway. Racing and betting have continued as usual.

Wiswall Not Concerned

The president of the Racing Association, Frank L. Wiswall, said he was "not a bit concerned" about the Labor Board's action. Wiswall said the serving of the complaint was a "routine matter under the State Labor law" and the charges would be "clearly demonstrated to be untrue."

The association is awaiting court action on its request for an injunction against the picketing. Justice Harry E. Shirick has reserved decision.

The Labor Board had scheduled a hearing today in Albany on a raceway petition for a new bargaining election at the track, but the hearing was postponed until June 23. The AFL Union was certified last August as a bargaining agent for the pari-mutuel clerks.

Although the sun shines 24 hours a day at Point Barrow, Alaska, during July, the temperature averages 39 degrees Fahrenheit during that month.

SOVIET CHALLENGE

The United States had better revise its estimate of the intelligence of the Russian people. It is becoming increasingly evident that the Russians are not so ignorant and so uneducated as many Americans have complacently assumed.

It is becoming apparent that Soviet science, especially in the field of military applications, constitutes a real challenge to the United States. The Russians are known to have produced planes like our huge jet-powered B-52 and B-47 medium jet bomber. Furthermore, it is possible that Soviet research in long-range guided missiles has outstripped ours. These accomplishments cannot be attributed to spies.

The scope of this challenge to the United States can be seen in the authoritative estimate made recently in Washington that within a few years the Soviet Union will be turning out more engineers and natural scientists with Ph.D. degrees than will this country. In fact, Dr. Alan T. Waterman, director of the National Science Foundation, told Congress a year ago that by 1955 the USSR would be producing 50,000 engineers annually, compared with 17,000 in this country.

Making the picture more dismal is the fact that the number of American science teachers is on the decline, and many of the present college and high school teachers are resigning for higher-paid jobs in industry. Obviously, there is reason for concern.

This challenge can be met by strengthening the American school system, first by relieving the existing shortage of 350,000 classrooms, second, by making the teaching profession more attractive, and finally by acknowledging that education, now often regarded as an unimportant luxury, is really important to the security of the United States.

WOULD YOU TAKE $1,000?

"Would you take $1,000 for this car? If so, see Joe at the Blank Motors." Cards reading like this are sometimes found under the windshield wipers of cars left in public parking places. The figure named is always considerably in excess of any conceivable value for the automobile, and is naturally meant to lure the prospect to the used car headquarters.

There he is apt to find various catches, an unexpectedly high price for the car he wants, the requirement to take unwanted extra equipment, or extra charges, more or less plausibly justified.

Some firms may use this technique and still deal fairly by the customer. Enough do not to justify a recent warning of the National Better Business Bureau. If a motorist is sufficiently tempted by a dazzling offer left under his windshield wiper to go to the showroom, and there finds arguments as to why the sum named cannot be paid, he will be wise to leave immediately, and deal with a firm which does not resort to false "come-on" tactics to gain customers. Reporting the matter to the Better Business Bureau might keep others from being gouged.

REPAYING A DEBT

Because we are sometimes forgetful, because gratitude expressed is a noble emotion, because the relationship of a father to his children is a warm and beautiful thing, it may be right that we set a day aside each year to honor fathers.

Yet we must not let this day be a sop to our conscience for our forgetfulness or neglect to express in our lives our gratitude to fathers. A new pipe, a new pair of slippers, a sport shirt is a poor way to try to pay an obligation that can never be paid with material things.

Every father wants his child to grow strong and wise, to lead a good life. In a sense, the life of a father is continued in his children. The best way we can acknowledge the debt we owe to our father is to lead good, useful lives, to be good citizens and happy people. The father who can be proud of his children asks no other repayment for the sacrifices he has made for them.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

DULLES ON COMMUNISM

John Foster Dulles often raises his speeches above the mediocrity which is so current these days. It would seem that the speech advisers of most of our great men believe that the more pedestrian a public official, the more popular he will be. On the other hand, over-simplification can lead to such distortions as to cause confusion by the unmodified terms used and the lack of full explanations.

In all the current concentration on Communism and anti-Communism, one of the most misunderstood statements is J. Edgar Hoover's figure that the Communist Party membership is down to 25,000. The Director of the FBI also stated that never before was the situation as regards Communists in this country so serious. The second part of the statement has gone unnoticed, but the figure 25,000 has been used in the McCarthy-Stevens hearings to give the impression that the Communist conspiracy is no longer a menace. Actually, the party has purged itself of weak and doubtful members and the espionage groups are under other than party control.

In his Caracas speech, John Foster Dulles painted the picture with photographic accuracy when he said:

"We, here in the Americas, are not immune from that threat of Soviet Communism. There is not a single country in this hemisphere which has not been penetrated by the apparatus of international Communism, acting under orders from Moscow. No one of us knows fully the extent of that conspiracy. From time to time small parts are detected and exposed."

Mr. Dulles went on to say that the earliest post-war exposure was by the Canadian Royal Commission. He might have said that the first exposure was made in the United States by Dr. William Wirt, the educator from Gary, Indiana, and then by the House Committee on Un-American Activities under the chairmanship of Martin Dies. It was this committee which eventually unearthed the Whittaker Chambers-Alger Hiss situation that led to the Hiss trials and conviction that so startled the American people. Dulles added:

"In the United States there has been a succession of exposures and judicial convictions which prove international Communism plots against our form of government. I venture to say every delegate here knows of similar activities within his own country which are being conducted from Moscow or way stations.

"This Communist conspiracy is not to be taken lightly. . . ."

Those, therefore, who accept the assumption that because the Communist Party now only has 25,000 members it is not effective make a serious mistake that requires correction. The menace is now even greater than in the 1930's because the party is largely underground and because it is no longer, in any respect, an international party in the sense that its constituent members have a voice in its management; it has become strictly an arm of Soviet imperialism, directly managed and solely controlled by the Kremlin. When Jacques Duclos, the Frenchman, sends congratulations to Ho Chih Minh, the enemy of France, he speaks not as a Frenchman but as a Russian, serving Russian policy.

It must be recalled, in this connection, that it was Duclos who gave the American Communist Party notice in 1945 to rid itself of Earl Browder whose Communist Political Association was strongly affected by American nationalism. Such Communists as Duclos act as Russian agents. This marks the major difference between the Comintern and the Soviet Universal State, with which we are now engaged in an indescribable type of war. A characteristic of this type of war is political infiltration into an enemy country.

The Latin American phase of this problem has been serious for many years, as early as when Constantine Oumansky, who was killed in an airplane accident on January 25, 1945, was operating in that area. That the Russians have at all been successful is due in no small measure to the refusal of the American Government and people to take the Soviet drive in every Latin American country seriously. It can be said that John Foster Dulles is the first Secretary of State since 1933 who has understood this problem and taken it seriously enough to try to deal with it realistically. But the habit of not being realistic about it is strong in the land. Latin America may turn out to be our most serious problem.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

LIVING A FULL LIFE

One of the most outstanding men of talent at present is Dr. Albert Schweitzer. In his department, "Men and Books," in the Canadian Medical Association Journal, Dr. S. G. Ross, Montreal, states, "At rare intervals in our history there appear men of multiple talents — talents which they develop to their utmost — men such as Aristotle and Leonardo da Vinci. These men have left an imperishable record in the history of human progress. Today I solicit your interest in a contemporary man of many talents — Albert Schweitzer, physician in French Equatorial Africa for the past 40 years. In addition, a world-famous organist and interpreter of Bach, an authority on organ construction, ethical philosopher and theologian, whose studies of Jesus and St. Paul and the philosophy of civilization have disclosed his profundity as a thinker."

He was born in 1875 in a small village in Alsace. The son of a Protestant pastor and the grandson of another, he grew up in a religious atmosphere. His church was unusual in that it served both the Catholic and Protestant families of the community. Schweitzer states that even as a child he felt beauty in the idea that Catholics and Protestants worshipped in the same building.

Early in life he showed a love and talent for music and by the age of eight was playing the organ. He continued his studies and became a world famous interpreter of Bach. He had an innate respect for life, not only human but all animal and even plant life. He took university degrees in both theology and philosophy and, meanwhile, his musical fame increased and he also conducted research into organ construction.

In the midst of all this fame and study he made a decision to devote his life from the age of 30 on to those who were unhappy through poverty or ill health. To prepare for this he decided to study medicine in order to go as a doctor to Equatorial Africa. This was a threefold sacrifice — give up his music and the organ, renounce academic teaching and research, and give up his financial independence.

He thus carried out in a practical way his reverence for life. The thousands of underprivileged humans whose lives were saved, who were restored to health, or whose pain and discomfort were relieved, bore witness to this effort. He has lived the "full" life.

The wooden shoes of Holland, famed in story and legend, are another victim of modern industrialism. Today they're found more frequently in Netherlands gift shops than on the feet of Hollanders. In fact, some Dutch people say more wooden shoes can be found in Holland, Michigan, than in Holland itself.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA)—Any leading citizen faced with delivering a commencement address to a graduation class sure has a tough assignment on his hands this year. What can he tell 'em?

This is the age of science, he may think as he begins to prepare his speech. There is a shortage of engineers. So tell the young folk to carry on their educations and become engineers. Let the graduate build one of those new atomic power plants—or a bigger and better bomb—and the world will beat a path to his door.

Or tell him to become a great scientist like that fellow who built the first A-bomb and later became head of the Institute of Advanced Studies at Princeton. What was his name? Oh, yes—J. Robert Oppenheimer.

No, that wouldn't do. Better leave science out of the speech. Too many people thought scientists were odd—like Albert Einstein. Better get an example with no question of security involved.

* * *

Well, there is always public service. No question about that. With so many charges of disloyalty flying around, there should be a great field in government service. So tell 'em to become honest administrators.

Start as a clerk and climb the ladder of success, round by round, making your agency a model of efficiency, free from politics.

Work hard. And in 20 years you'll become as good and as respected as that red-headed fellow who became head of TVA—the Tennessee Valley Authority—what was his name? Oh, yes—Gordon Clapp.

No, that wouldn't do, either. Something in the papers the other day about his not being reappointed. Never explained, either, and they hadn't found anyone as good as he was to replace him. Well, no use telling young people to follow in his footsteps.

* * *

But the graduates could be told to go into business. That is always safe. Business people are the best people of the community. Respected. Chance to make money. Make a million dollars. Make a hundred million.

Not just for the sake of becoming rich, but to give away. Do some good in the world. Endow colleges and things.

Build public libraries as old Andy Carnegie did. Found research institutes to fight disease all over the world the way the Rockefellers did. Establish trust funds to take over the profits of your business empire, the way old Henry Ford did, so that the income could be spent to make life better in America.

There is no reason why others couldn't establish foundations like these—

Foundations? What was that word? What was that in the papers about Congress or somebody down in Washington investigating all the foundations — Carnegie, Rockefeller, Ford and the others—because they were all in a big conspiracy to plant socialism and other subversive things in the good old U.S.A.?

It wouldn't do to tell members of a graduating class to get mixed up in anything like that. Besides, their parents might not like it. Cross out that stuff about becoming rich for the joy of service to others. Try something else. Steer 'em on to something that won't be investigated.

* * *

Sure. That's it. Tell 'em to become investigators. Why wasn't that thought of before? That's where the future lies. Study law. Noble profession, the law. Great chance for public service. Get into politics—to clean it up, of course. Run for office—ward, city, county, state and finally national office.

Serve a few terms in Congress and then, at first opportunity cut the political throat of the senator from your state and take his job away from him.

Introduce a resolution to set up a committee, with you at its head, to investigate something. Investigate anything. Great chance for public service.

Yes, this would be a really great commencement address.

It used to be that graduation day orators would inspire youth to go out and become President of the United States. But Presidents haven't been doing too well of late.

Look at all the trouble they get into—Hoover, Roosevelt, Truman, and now even Eisenhower. Yes, there is really greater opportunity for youth in investigating Presidents than in becoming one.

Strauss' Chief 'Sin' Seems to Be Stand Against Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer

By DAVID LAWRENCE

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, June 17—A determined effort seems to have been made by "left wingers" hereabouts to discredit the Atomic Energy Commission and particularly its chairman, Lewis S. Strauss, whose heroic defense of the security of the United States deserves instead the highest plaudits of his countrymen. His chief sin in the eyes of the "left wingers" is that he has lined up against Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer.

The official release of the entire transcript in the proceedings which led to the judgment that Dr. Oppenheimer is a security risk and should not be employed by governmental agencies hereafter is a sensational revelation. But this document and the report of the special board headed by Gordon Gray do not tell the whole story.

For the fact is that Dr. Oppenheimer strayed outside the field of science and, for example, urged that in the event of war the strategic air command of the U. S. Air Force should not be used if the other side would agree also to refrain from using theirs, which was relatively small. This was first disclosed in an article appearing in "Fortune" magazine in May 1953 which was written by Charles J. V. Murphy, who had just finished a tour of reserve duty as a colonel in the air force and as aide to the late General Hoyt S. Vandenberg.

Why should a scientist—and an influential one who could bring to bear the united influence of many of his colleagues—try insistently to give advice during top-level secret conferences on what the American military position should be? The Gray board's report had in it this guarded language:

"In evaluating advice from a specialist which departs from the area of this specialty, government officials charged with the military posture of our country must also be certain that underlying any advice is a genuine conviction that this country cannot in the interest of security have less than the strongest possible offensive capabilities in a time of national danger. . . .

"We must make it clear that we do not question Dr. Oppenheimer's right to the opinions he held with respect to the development of this weapon (the H-bomb). They were shared by other competent and devoted individuals, both in and out of government. We are willing to assume that they were motivated by deep moral conviction.

"We are concerned, however, that he may have departed his role as scientific adviser to exercise highly persuasive influence in matters in which his convictions were not necessarily a reflection of technical judgment, and also not necessarily related to the protection of the strongest offensive military interests of the country.

"In the course of the proceedings, there developed other facts which raised questions of such serious import as to give us concern about whether the retention of Dr. Oppenheimer's services would be clearly consistent with the security interests of the United States."

Most significant also is a letter from William L. Borden just now made public in the official proceedings of the hearings of the Gray board. Mr. Borden was executive director of the staff of the joint congressional committee on atomic energy from January 1949 until June 1953. He served under the late Senator McMahon, Democrat, who was chairman of the committee. Before entering on these duties, he had been a pilot in the army air force for three years and served overseas. He is a graduate of Yale Law School. On November 7, 1953, after he left the committee, he wrote to J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI, outlining his suspicions about Dr. Oppenheimer based on a careful study of all classified data to which he had access, and this included almost everything related to atomic-energy matters in the government. Mr. Borden wrote in part:

"The purpose of this letter is to state my own exhaustively considered opinion, based upon years of study, of the available classified evidence, that more probably than not J. Robert Oppenheimer is an agent of the Soviet Union.

"This opinion considers the following factors among others: He was contributing substantial monthly sums to the Communist party; his ties with communism had survived the Nazi-Soviet pact and the Soviet attack upon Finland; his wife and younger brother were Communists; he had no close friends except Communists; he had at least one Communist mistress; he belonged only to Communist organizations, apart from professional affiliations; the people whom he recruited into the early wartime Berkeley atomic project were exclusively Communists; he had been instrumental in securing recruits for the Communist party; and he was in frequent contact with Soviet agents."

In addition, Mr. Borden charged that Dr. Oppenheimer was a vigorous supporter of the H-bomb program until World War 2 ended and that he then urged each senior individual in his field to desist and was "remarkably instrumental in influencing the military authorities and the Atomic Energy Commission essentially to suspend H-bomb development from mid-1946 through January 31, 1950."

Mr. Borden asserts that Oppenheimer "more probably than not, has since (mid-1942) acted under a Soviet directive influencing United States military, atomic energy, intelligence, and diplomatic policy," and points out that "it is to be noted that these conclusions correlate with information furnished by Klaus Fuchs, indicating that the Soviets had acquired an agent in Berkeley who informed them about electromagnetic separation research during 1942 and earlier."

What is particularly damaging, however, are several of Oppenheimer's own admissions which are revealed in the official testimony, such as his confession that he lied to a security officer of the United States Army about a contact with him attempted by a Soviet agent and that he did not reveal the true facts until some months later. Obviously the furor about the Oppenheimer case isn't just a matter of views or opinions but concerns specific acts that resulted in the decision to refuse to give him security clearance for the future.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, June 15—I don't know why the decline of professional baseball should be a matter of almost tragic import to me because I don't see half a dozen games a year and, in Tucson, I am always planning to attend — our bush-league games — next year.

In my sport-writing phase I did much to de-glamorize the business in rebuke to grubby box-office mercenaries who let the papers and the fans create "heroes" out of common clay and then sold them off like brutes. But my inner sentiments were romantic, just the same.

Many of the players I knew were fascinating individuals as far apart from the common run of people in their humor and tempers and quickness of mind as they were in athletic skill. Some were utterly abandoned fighters with no holds barred. The saga of Ty Cobb and Charlie Herzog is a classic of bloodshed and unrelenting hatred lasting many years, although I dare say that Cobb has forgiven since Herzog died destitute and alone but bravely proud.

George Stovall also went for the jugular and a lawyer who pitched a few seasons for the Browns to see himself through further years in college once told me of a fight in which he thought Rogers Hornsby was surely going to kill a young giant with whom he had words in a Pullman one night on the road. I know of no other line of work whose members are capable of such terrible furies, although this is by no means their most important characteristic.

Parenthetically, let me say, too, and with no clue to the explanation, that ballplayers are terrible fighters from the standpoint of the professional ring. Art Shires, of the White Sox, was the only one who made a serious attempt at prizefighting and he was so bad that they had to match him against another ballplayer, a Boston catcher who needed the money for an operation on his wife. Any third-rate fighter of equal weight could knock the toughest free-style baseball brawler plumb dead in a round because here you have another kind of skill as distinct and competent as that of the ballplayers in their own line.

I have seen objections raised which I do not understand at all against the operation of a professional baseball system consisting of a farm chain and a major league big store by Anheuser-Busch. Not only is there absolutely nothing wrong with the arrangement but this should and probably must be the next development in the evolution of a strange American industry and sentimental institution. There are sufficient big commercial firms with adequate advertising appropriations to save baseball from that public apathy which is not only progressive but, in some areas, galloping. General Motors, Ford, Chrysler and, say Kaiser, each could subsidize a chain, although last time I saw him old Henry told me the Kaiser outfit owed the RFC about $19 million of my tax money. I would want Henry to square that up before he went philanthropic on us in the field of baseball.

We have enough other giants of advertising to round out the situation—brewers, distillers, cigarette companies and sellers of shaving stuff. For a reason which I cannot understand at all, one senator in Washington has threatened terrible laws against any such wealthy patron who operates a major club frankly as an advertising device to promote the sale of his product.

But what can be wrong with that? How can that be immoral, even though the product be cigarettes or whiskey, when we approve of commerce in these merchandises and partake of their iniquity, if any, by imposing exorbitant special taxes whereby we abate the tax burdens on ourselves? Why shouldn't the St. Louis Cardinals change their name to Budweiser and wear it on their uniforms? The name "Cardinals" is absolutely meaningless. I believe it was selected about 1914 by Mrs. Helene Britten, the wife of the man who then owned and operated the team and park as a business property. I don't know why she picked the cardinal, if she did, instead of the barnrat, the buzzard or the skunk, all of which are equally suitable as long as you don't have to set forth any significance to justify a name.

SOVIET CHALLENGE

The United States had better revise its estimate of the intelligence of the Russian people. It is becoming increasingly evident that the Russians are not so ignorant and so uneducated as many Americans have complacently assumed.

It is becoming apparent that Soviet science, especially in the field of military applications, constitutes a real challenge to the United States. The Russians are known to have produced planes like our huge jet-powered B-52 and B-47 medium jet bomber. Furthermore, it is possible that Soviet research in long-range guided missiles has outstripped ours. These accomplishments cannot be attributed to spies.

The scope of this challenge to the United States can be seen in the authoritative estimate made recently in Washington that within a few years the Soviet Union will be turning out more engineers and natural scientists with Ph.D. degrees than will this country. In fact, Dr. Alan T. Waterman, director of the National Science Foundation, told Congress a year ago that by 1955 the USSR would be producing 50,000 engineers annually, compared with 17,000 in this country.

Making the picture more dismal is the fact that the number of American science teachers is on the decline, and many of the present college and high school teachers are resigning for higher-paid jobs in industry. Obviously, there is reason for concern.

This challenge can be met by strengthening the American school system, first by relieving the existing shortage of 350,000 classrooms, second, by making the teaching profession more attractive, and finally by acknowledging that education, now often regarded as an unimportant luxury, is really important to the security of the United States.

WOULD YOU TAKE $1,000?

"Would you take $1,000 for this car? If so, see Joe at the Blank Motors." Cards reading like this are sometimes found under the windshield wipers of cars left in public parking places. The figure named is always considerably in excess of any conceivable value for the automobile, and is naturally meant to lure the prospect to the used car headquarters.

There he is apt to find various catches, an unexpectedly high price for the car he wants, the requirement to take unwanted extra equipment, or extra charges, more or less plausibly justified.

Some firms may use this technique and still deal fairly by the customer. Enough do not to justify a recent warning of the National Better Business Bureau. If a motorist is sufficiently tempted by a dazzling offer left under his windshield wiper to go to the showroom, and there finds arguments as to why the sum named cannot be paid, he will be wise to leave immediately, and deal with a firm which does not resort to false "come-on" tactics to gain customers. Reporting the matter to the Better Business Bureau might keep others from being gouged.

REPAYING A DEBT

Because we are sometimes forgetful, because gratitude expressed is a noble emotion, because the relationship of a father to his children is a warm and beautiful thing, it may be right that we set a day aside each year to honor fathers.

Yet we must not let this day be a sop to our conscience for our forgetfulness or neglect to express in our lives our gratitude to fathers. A new pipe, a new pair of slippers, a sport shirt is a poor way to try to pay an obligation that can never be paid with material things.

Every father wants his child to grow strong and wise, to lead a good life. In a sense, the life of a father is continued in his children. The best way we can acknowledge the debt we owe to our father is to lead good, useful lives, to be good citizens and happy people. The father who can be proud of his children asks no other repayment for the sacrifices he has made for them.

'These Days'

DULLES ON COMMUNISM

John Foster Dulles often raises his speeches above the mediocrity which is so current these days. It would seem that the speech advisers of most of our great men believe that the more pedestrian a public official, the more popular he will be. On the other hand, over-simplification can lead to such distortions as to cause confusion by the unmodified terms used and the lack of full explanations.

In all the current concentration on Communism and anti-Communism, one of the most misunderstood statements is J. Edgar Hoover's figure that the Communist Party membership is down to 25,000. The Director of the FBI also stated that never before was the situation as regards Communists in this country so serious. The second part of the statement has gone unnoticed, but the figure 25,000 has been used in the McCarthy-Stevens hearings to give the impression that the Communist conspiracy is no longer a menace. Actually, the party has purged itself of weak and doubtful members and the espionage groups are under other than party control.

In his Caracas speech, John Foster Dulles painted the picture with photographic accuracy when he said:

"We, here in the Americas, are not immune from that threat of Soviet Communism. There is not a single country in this hemisphere which has not been penetrated by the apparatus of international Communism, acting under orders from Moscow. No one of us knows fully the extent of that conspiracy. From time to time small parts are detected and exposed."

Mr. Dulles went on to say that the earliest post-war exposure was by the Canadian Royal Commission. He might have said that the first exposure was made in the United States by Dr. William Wirt, the educator from Gary, Indiana, and then by the House Committee on Un-American Activities under the chairmanship of Martin Dies. It was this committee which eventually unearthed the Whittaker Chambers-Alger Hiss situation that led to the Hiss trials and conviction that so startled the American people. Dulles added:

"In the United States there has been a succession of exposures and judicial convictions which prove international Communism plots against our form of government. I venture to say every delegate here knows of similar activities within his own country which are being conducted from Moscow or way stations.

"This Communist conspiracy is not to be taken lightly. . . ."

Those, therefore, who accept the assumption that because the Communist Party now only has 25,000 members it is not effective make a serious mistake that requires correction. The menace is now even greater than in the 1930's because the party is largely underground and because it is no longer, in any respect, an international party in the sense that its constituent members have a voice in its management; it has become strictly an arm of Soviet imperialism, directly managed and solely controlled by the Kremlin. When Jacques Duclos, the Frenchman, sends congratulations to Ho Chih Minh, the enemy of France, he speaks not as a Frenchman but as a Russian, serving Russian policy.

It must be recalled, in this connection, that it was Duclos who gave the American Communist Party notice in 1945 to rid itself of Earl Browder whose Communist Political Association was strongly affected by American nationalism. Such Communists as Duclos act as Russian agents. This marks the major difference between the Comintern and the Soviet Universal State, with which we are now engaged in an indescribable type of war. A characteristic of this type of war is political infiltration into an enemy country.

The Latin American phase of this problem has been serious for many years, as early as when Constantine Oumansky, who was killed in an airplane accident on January 25, 1945, was operating in that area. That the Russians have at all been successful is due in no small measure to the refusal of the American Government and people to take the Soviet drive in every Latin American country seriously. It can be said that John Foster Dulles is the first Secretary of State since 1933 who has understood this problem and taken it seriously enough to try to deal with it realistically. But the habit of not being realistic about it is strong in the land. Latin America may turn out to be our most serious problem.

That Body of Yours

LIVING A FULL LIFE

One of the most outstanding men of talent at present is Dr. Albert Schweitzer. In his department, "Men and Books," in the Canadian Medical Association Journal, Dr. S. G. Ross, Montreal, states, "At rare intervals in our history there appear men of multiple talents — talents which they develop to their utmost — men such as Aristotle and Leonardo da Vinci. These men have left an imperishable record in the history of human progress. Today I solicit your interest in a contemporary man of many talents — Albert Schweitzer, physician in French Equatorial Africa for the past 40 years. In addition, a world-famous organist and interpreter of Bach, an authority on organ construction, ethical philosopher and theologian, whose studies of Jesus and St. Paul and the philosophy of civilization have disclosed his profundity as a thinker."

He was born in 1875 in a small village in Alsace. The son of a Protestant pastor and the grandson of another, he grew up in a religious atmosphere. His church was unusual in that it served both the Catholic and Protestant families of the community. Schweitzer states that even as a child he felt beauty in the idea that Catholics and Protestants worshipped in the same building.

Early in life he showed a love and talent for music and by the age of eight was playing the organ. He continued his studies and became a world famous interpreter of Bach. He had an innate respect for life, not only human but all animal and even plant life. He took university degrees in both theology and philosophy and, meanwhile, his musical fame increased and he also conducted research into organ construction.

In the midst of all this fame and study he made a decision to devote his life from the age of 30 on to those who were unhappy through poverty or ill health. To prepare for this he decided to study medicine in order to go as a doctor to Equatorial Africa. This was a threefold sacrifice — give up his music and the organ, renounce academic teaching and research, and give up his financial independence.

He thus carried out in a practical way his reverence for life. The thousands of underprivileged humans whose lives were saved, who were restored to health, or whose pain and discomfort were relieved, bore witness to this effort. He has lived the "full" life.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA)—Any leading citizen faced with delivering a commencement address to a graduation class sure has a tough assignment on his hands this year. What can he tell 'em?

This is the age of science, he may think as he begins to prepare his speech. There is a shortage of engineers. So tell the young folk to carry on their educations and become engineers. Let the graduate build one of those new atomic power plants—or a bigger and better bomb—and the world will beat a path to his door.

Or tell him to become a great scientist like that fellow who built the first A-bomb and later became head of the Institute of Advanced Studies at Princeton. What was his name? Oh, yes—J. Robert Oppenheimer.

No, that wouldn't do. Better leave science out of the speech. Too many people thought scientists were odd—like Albert Einstein. Better get an example with no question of security involved.

* * *

Well, there is always public service. No question about that. With so many charges of disloyalty flying around, there should be a great field in government service. So tell 'em to become honest administrators.

Start as a clerk and climb the ladder of success, round by round, making your agency a model of efficiency, free from politics.

Work hard. And in 20 years you'll become as good and as respected as that red-headed fellow who became head of TVA—the Tennessee Valley Authority—what was his name? Oh, yes—Gordon Clapp.

No, that wouldn't do, either. Something in the papers the other day about his not being reappointed. Never explained, either, and they hadn't found anyone as good as he was to replace him. Well, no use telling young people to follow in his footsteps.

* * *

But the graduates could be told to go into business. That is always safe. Business people are the best people of the community. Respected. Chance to make money. Make a million dollars. Make a hundred million.

Not just for the sake of becoming rich, but to give away. Do some good in the world. Endow colleges and things.

Build public libraries as old Andy Carnegie did. Found research institutes to fight disease all over the world the way the Rockefellers did. Establish trust funds to take over the profits of your business empire, the way old Henry Ford did, so that the income could be spent to make life better in America.

There is no reason why others couldn't establish foundations like these—

Foundations? What was that word? What was that in the papers about Congress or somebody down in Washington investigating all the foundations — Carnegie, Rockefeller, Ford and the others—because they were all in a big conspiracy to plant socialism and other subversive things in the good old U.S.A.?

It wouldn't do to tell members of a graduating class to get mixed up in anything like that. Besides, their parents might not like it. Cross out that stuff about becoming rich for the joy of service to others. Try something else. Steer 'em on to something that won't be investigated.

* * *

Sure. That's it. Tell 'em to become investigators. Why wasn't that thought of before? That's where the future lies. Study law. Noble profession, the law. Great chance for public service. Get into politics—to clean it up, of course. Run for office—ward, city, county, state and finally national office.

Serve a few terms in Congress and then, at first opportunity cut the political throat of the senator from your state and take his job away from him.

Introduce a resolution to set up a committee, with you at its head, to investigate something. Investigate anything. Great chance for public service.

Yes, this would be a really great commencement address.

It used to be that graduation day orators would inspire youth to go out and become President of the United States. But Presidents haven't been doing too well of late.

Look at all the trouble they get into—Hoover, Roosevelt, Truman, and now even Eisenhower. Yes, there is really greater opportunity for youth in investigating Presidents than in becoming one.

Strauss' Chief 'Sin' Seems to Be Stand Against Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, June 17—A determined effort seems to have been made by "left wingers" hereabouts to discredit the Atomic Energy Commission and particularly its chairman, Lewis S. Strauss, whose heroic defense of the security of the United States deserves instead the highest plaudits of his countrymen. His chief sin in the eyes of the "left wingers" is that he has lined up against Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer.

The official release of the entire transcript in the proceedings which led to the judgment that Dr. Oppenheimer is a security risk and should not be employed by governmental agencies hereafter is a sensational revelation. But this document and the report of the special board headed by Gordon Gray do not tell the whole story.

For the fact is that Dr. Oppenheimer strayed outside the field of science and, for example, urged that in the event of war the strategic air command of the U. S. Air Force should not be used if the other side would agree also to refrain from using theirs, which was relatively small. This was first disclosed in an article appearing in "Fortune" magazine in May 1953 which was written by Charles J. V. Murphy, who had just finished a tour of reserve duty as a colonel in the air force and as aide to the late General Hoyt S. Vandenberg.

Why should a scientist—and an influential one who could bring to bear the united influence of many of his colleagues—try insistently to give advice during top-level secret conferences on what the American military position should be? The Gray board's report had in it this guarded language:

"In evaluating advice from a specialist which departs from the area of this specialty, government officials charged with the military posture of our country must also be certain that underlying any advice is a genuine conviction that this country cannot in the interest of security have less than the strongest possible offensive capabilities in a time of national danger. . . .

"We must make it clear that we do not question Dr. Oppenheimer's right to the opinions he held with respect to the development of this weapon (the H-bomb). They were shared by other competent and devoted individuals, both in and out of government. We are willing to assume that they were motivated by deep moral conviction.

"We are concerned, however, that he may have departed his role as scientific adviser to exercise highly persuasive influence in matters in which his convictions were not necessarily a reflection of technical judgment, and also not necessarily related to the protection of the strongest offensive military interests of the country.

"In the course of the proceedings, there developed other facts which raised questions of such serious import as to give us concern about whether the retention of Dr. Oppenheimer's services would be clearly consistent with the security interests of the United States."

Most significant also is a letter from William L. Borden just now made public in the official proceedings of the hearings of the Gray board. Mr. Borden was executive director of the staff of the joint congressional committee on atomic energy from January 1949 until June 1953. He served under the late Senator McMahon, Democrat, who was chairman of the committee. Before entering on these duties, he had been a pilot in the army air force for three years and served overseas. He is a graduate of Yale Law School. On November 7, 1953, after he left the committee, he wrote to J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI, outlining his suspicions about Dr. Oppenheimer based on a careful study of all classified data to which he had access, and this included almost everything related to atomic-energy matters in the government. Mr. Borden wrote in part:

"The purpose of this letter is to state my own exhaustively considered opinion, based upon years of study, of the available classified evidence, that more probably than not J. Robert Oppenheimer is an agent of the Soviet Union.

"This opinion considers the following factors among others: He was contributing substantial monthly sums to the Communist party; his ties with communism had survived the Nazi-Soviet pact and the Soviet attack upon Finland; his wife and younger brother were Communists; he had no close friends except Communists; he had at least one Communist mistress; he belonged only to Communist organizations, apart from professional affiliations; the people whom he recruited into the early wartime Berkeley atomic project were exclusively Communists; he had been instrumental in securing recruits for the Communist party; and he was in frequent contact wtih Soviet agents."

In addition, Mr. Borden charged that Dr. Oppenheimer was a vigorous supporter of the H-bomb program until World War 2 ended and that he then urged each senior individual in his field to desist and was "remarkably instrumental in influencing the military authorities and the Atomic Energy Commission essentially to suspend H-bomb development from mid-1946 through January 31, 1950."

Mr. Borden asserts that Oppenheimer "more probably than not, has since (mid-1942) acted under a Soviet directive influencing United States military, atomic energy, intelligence, and diplomatic policy," and points out that "it is to be noted that these conclusions correlate with information furnished by Klaus Fuchs, indicating that the Soviets had acquired an agent in Berkeley who informed them about electromagnetic separation research during 1942 and earlier."

What is particularly damaging, however, are several of Oppenheimer's own admissions which are revealed in the official testimony, such as his confession that he lied to a security officer of the United States Army about a contact with him attempted by a Soviet agent and that he did not reveal the true facts until some months later. Obviously the furor about the Oppenheimer case isn't just a matter of views or opinions but concerns specific acts that resulted in the decision to refuse to give him security clearance for the future.

The saga of Ty Cobb and Charlie Herzog is a classic of bloodshed and unrelenting hatred lasting many years, although I dare say that Cobb has forgiven since Herzog died destitute and alone but bravely proud.

George Stovall also went for the jugular and a lawyer who pitched a few seasons for the Browns to see himself through further years in college once told me of a fight in which he thought Rogers Hornsby was surely going to kill a young giant with whom he had words in a Pullman one night on the road. I know of no other line of work whose members are capable of such terrible furies, although this is by no means their most important characteristic.

Parenthetically, let me say, too, and with no clue to the explanation, that ballplayers are terrible fighters from the standpoint of the professional ring. Art Shires, of the White Sox, was the only one who made a serious attempt at prizefighting and he was so bad that they had to match him against another ballplayer, a Boston catcher who needed the money for an operation on his wife. Any third-rate fighter of equal weight could knock the toughest free-style baseball brawler plumb dead in a round because here you have another kind of skill as distinct and competent as that of the ballplayers in their own line.

I have seen objections raised which I do not understand at all against the operation of a professional baseball system consisting of a farm chain and a major league big store by Anheuser-Busch. Not only is there absolutely nothing wrong with the arrangement but this should and probably must be the next development in the evolution of a strange American industry and sentimental institution. There are sufficient big commercial firms with adequate advertising appropriations to save baseball from that public apathy which is not only progressive but, in some areas, galloping. General Motors, Ford, Chrysler and, say Kaiser, each could subsidize a chain, although last time I saw him old Henry told me the Kaiser outfit owed the RFC about $19 million of my tax money. I would want Henry to square that up before he went philanthropic on us in the field of baseball.

We have enough other giants of advertising to round out the situation—brewers, distillers, cigarette companies and sellers of shaving stuff. For a reason which I cannot understand at all, one senator in Washington has threatened terrible laws against any such wealthy patron who operates a major club frankly as an advertising device to promote the sale of his product.

But what can be wrong with that? How can that be immoral, even though the product be cigarettes or whiskey, when we approve of commerce in these merchandises and partake of their iniquity, if any, by imposing exorbitant special taxes whereby we abate the tax burdens on ourselves? Why shouldn't the St. Louis Cardinals change their name to Budweiser and wear it on their uniforms? The name "Cardinals" is absolutely meaningless. I believe it was selected about 1914 by Mrs. Helene Britten, the wife of the man who then owned and operated the team and park as a business property. I don't know why she picked the cardinal, if she did, instead of the barnrat, the buzzard or the skunk, all of which are equally suitable as long as you don't have to set forth any significance to justify a name.

Inasmuch as Mr. Busch owns

Happy Is The Day When Backache Goes Away . . . .

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Today's hand is bid to the hilt, but it is difficult to see which bid can be criticized. South certainly has a sound opening bid and a sound rebid of two spades. North should surely bid two hearts at his first turn and cannot be blamed for being slightly ambitious with his bid of three diamonds at his second turn.

After all, North has 11 points in high cards opposite an opening bid, and North's strong suits are additional justifications for a second response.

After North makes his second response at the level of three, South cannot close his eyes to the fact that he has two good stoppers in the unbid suit. North's bidding practically begs South to go to the game in no-trump if he can take care of the unbid suit. South has little choice but to comply with this request.

In the average game, there wouldn't be much point in complaining about the ambitious bidding. South would make his contract without the slightest difficulty.

East would probably win the first trick with the ace of clubs and return the suit. South would win the second round of clubs and knock out the ace of hearts. Even if East held his ace of hearts up, declarer would get back to dummy with a diamond and the defenders would get only two club tricks and the two red aces.

East can defeat the game if he thinks carefully after winning the first trick with the ace of clubs. There is good reason to believe that dummy's hearts are the key to the game contract. East knows that he can hold up the ace of hearts, but what can he do about destroying dummy's diamond entry to the long hearts?

If East sees the problem clearly in this way, the answer should come very quickly. He must return the jack of diamonds at the second trick! This return prevents declarer from bringing in the long hearts, and limits him to three diamonds, one heart and two tricks in each of the black suits.

East must be precise about attacking dummy's diamond entry. If East tries to lead the nine of diamonds (instead of the correct lead of the jack, South can win with the ten of diamonds and still save dummy's entry.

Sound Sleep

St. Louis (AP)—Adolph H. Bohnn, snoozing in a rear room at his loan company, was awakened by a vigorous pounding on the door. Sleepily, he admitted police who arrested a man found hiding in the basement. The police told Bohnn that while he was sleeping a front window had been smashed, the firm's burglar alarm had sounded, and the handle on the company safe had been pounded off with a hammer and iron bar.

She Backs Dancing

Tuscola, Ill. (AP)—Folks hereabouts are accustomed to seeing Peggy Pettit, 11, put herself in pretzel-like poses. They know the physical phenomenon which enables her to get into such crazy shapes is the lack of cartilages connecting the vertebrae in her back. In the carnival world, she would be known as a contortionist. But she is studying to be a professional dancer.

Sarcophagus Is Viewed

Saqqara, Egypt, June 17 (AP)—A group of newspapermen and photographers crawled down 60 yards under a newly discovered step pyramid today to view a reddish alabaster sarcophagus believed to contain the remains of a pharaoh of the third dynasty. Dr. Sakkara Coneim, chief inspector of the Egyptian Antiquities Department who discovered the tomb last month, led the group. The sarcophagus is believed to contain the remains of Sankhet, who ruled Egypt about 2,750 B.C.

Scientists estimate that the average depth of the ocean is 13,000 feet.

At least 50 U.S. crops depend on insects for pollination.

McCarthy Raps

Pvt. G. David Schine and of the McCarthy camp's counter charges that the army tried to use Schine as a "hostage" to stop the McCarthy subcommittee's investigation of Communists in the army.

Schine, wealthy New Yorker, was an unpaid consultant on McCarthy's staff until drafted last November.

James D. St. Clair, assistant to army counsel Welch, hammered particularly at McCarthy's story that army counselor John G. Adams tried to "blackmail" him the night of Jan. 22 into dropping a planned investigation of army loyalty board members.

St. Clair pointed out a presidential order stood in the way of McCarthy's getting full testimony from loyalty board members.

Nevertheless, McCarthy stuck to his story of the alleged "blackmail" attempt.

McCarthy charged the Democrats with responsibility for the hearings during a heated exchange with Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) in which McCarthy accused McClellan and Symington of insincerity in their "protestations of piety" at the hearings.

The Wisconsin senator said it had been clearly shown that the hearings of the row were "the result of urging by Sen. Symington and what urging there was on the part of Clark Clifford, the legal counsel and top adviser of the Democrat party."

And McCarthy suggested McClellan take Symington out "to the woodshed and say: 'Now, Stu, lets you and I go on the stand'."

McCarthy said that would be the only way to "get all the facts on the table."

McClellan said he felt some of the proceedings have "disgusted the public."

The American people have a right to expect the Senate to conduct its proceedings "with dignity and solemnity," McClellan said.

McClellan particularly complained at "attempts to ridicule and to smear."

McClellan said that unless Clifford, Schine and Maj. Gen. Kirke B. Lawton are called as witnesses, all the facts can never be developed.

Winding up his speech, McClellan said: "I am a Democrat but I place the security and welfare of the country above any party."

Levine to Head Israel Bond Drive

Joseph Levine has accepted the chairmanship of the 1954 Israel Bond Drive, it was announced Wednesday. In accepting the chairmanship of the drive, he expressed his confidence that the Jewish community of Kingston would participate fully so that the drive might provide investment funds which constitute Israel's economic future.

The committee states that the new bond issue is called "Development Issue" and pays 4% instead of 3½% interest per year. This State of Israel Bond Issue in the United States will enable the flourishing new democracy of the Middle East to launch a vast expansion of industry and agriculture during the next crucial three years. It has provided the necessary capital for the integration of 600,000 additional newcomers to Israel and enabled them to be absorbed into a productive, self-sustaining economy built along the most modern lines. Israel's "Development Issue" is designed to help the Jewish State to add economic independence to the political independence it has already achieved.

A meeting of the committee will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Levine, 105 Mountain View road, Wednesday, June 23, at 8 p. m.

Police Seize Opium Worth Half Million

New York, June 17 (AP)—Police early today announced the seizure of 40 pounds of pure opium, worth about half a million dollars in the illicit market, on a ship moored in Brooklyn.

They said six men, including five Pakistani seamen, were taken into custody for questioning.

None was immediately identified.

Deputy Police Inspector Henry O'Connor said the Pakistanis offered to sell the opium to detectives aboard the S. S. Martland, an 8,000-ton freighter listed in Lloyd's register as British-owned.

O'Connor said the vessel arrived Monday from Boston on a trip from Calcutta.

The detectives went to the ship after the sixth man was arrested for allegedly trying to sell six pounds of opium to [illegible] in lower Manhattan. The suspect was quoted as saying he got the drug from a friend on the Martland.

Police Seize Opium Worth Half Million

New York, June 17 (AP)—Police early today announced the seizure of 40 pounds of pure opium, worth about half a million dollars in the illicit market, on a ship moored in Brooklyn.

They said six men, including five Pakistani seamen, were taken into custody for questioning.

None was immediately identified.

Deputy Police Inspector Henry O'Connor said the Pakistanis offered to sell the opium to detectives aboard the S. S. Martland, an 8,000-ton freighter listed in Lloyd's register as British-owned.

O'Connor said the vessel arrived Monday from Boston on a trip from Calcutta.

The detectives went to the ship after the sixth man was arrested for allegedly trying to sell six pounds of opium to [illegible] in lower Manhattan. The suspect was quoted as saying he got the drug from a friend on the Martland.

Connelly

President-elect James G. Connelly of the Kingston Rotary Club reported on the Rotary International convention held last week at Seattle, Wash., at the service club meeting Wednesday.

The convention registration of some 8,000 Rotarians and guests represented 8,200 Rotary Clubs with a membership of 387,000 business and professional executives in 89 countries.

Herbert J. Taylor of Chicago was elected president of Rotary International. Rotary's Golden Anniversary Convention will be held next year in Chicago, birthplace of the first Rotary Club in 1905, as the culmination of a world-wide observance of Rotary's 50 years of service.

Elected to Rotary International's Board of Directors were Rotarians from Australia, Belgium, Brazil, Canada and the U.S.A.

World peace and the internationality of the Rotary organization was the keynote of the gathering. Throughout the convention program, emphasis was given to the opportunities which Rotarians have, in all parts of the world, to work for the achievement of one of the principal goals of Rotary—the advancement of international understanding, good will and peace. The theme was to forget the evils of the past and work for the good of the future.

Youth and youth education were also on the convention agenda. One of the highlights of the convention program was a forum discussion participated in by three of the 606 outstanding college graduates from 57 countries who have received one-year fellowships from Rotary International for study, as ambassadors of good will, in countries other than their own. Grants for these Rotary Fellowships over the past seven years have totaled more than $1,500,000.

Among the speakers who addressed the convention was John Foster Dulles, U. S. Secretary of State, who discussed world affairs.

President-elect Connelly closed his concise and comprehensive report with an account of the enactment of legislation and the special entertainment features.

Sam D. Scudder, chairman of the ticket committee for the ladies' night to be held at Lake Minnewaska next Wednesday, announced that reservations must be made this week.

Crippled Flight

Grand Rapids, Mich. (AP)—The driver left an accident scene even though a front wheel had been knocked off his car. Police tracked him by marks left on the pavement by the dragging front spring and axle of his 1946 car. He pleaded guilty to leaving the scene of an accident and paid a $50 fine and costs.

Concrete Case

THE RUMINATOR

By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

A Column of Contrary Opinion

A large proportion of our citizenry has gone on an emotional jag. Each day, before their television sets, they receive another "shot" which keeps them in high emotional state.

In the meantime, the important affairs of the nation, indeed of the world, receive only "distracted attention." The President, when he has a message for the people, gets second-rate headlines in the newspapers and doubtless a greatly reduced listening and seeing audience. When people spend hours watching the McCarthy-Army hearings they're too worn out to turn on their sets for additional speeches and commentaries.

Because of the manner in which our Vermont senator, Ralph E. Flanders, has projected himself into the limelight as the coming savior of the Republican party, I feel like emoting myself. (I shouldn't admit this, because I have claimed that the Theory of Contrary Thinking makes one more objective and less subject to emotionalism. However, there are exceptions to all rules!)

What I feel like emoting about is the way we Vermonters are being shown up by Senator Flanders. No conservative Vermonter, for example, who prides himself on minding his own business and keeping his nose out of other people's business, would butt into a formal hearing, march up to the witness as he was being questioned, and break into the questioning by handing the witness a message that had nothing whatever to do with the hearing being conducted. Surely, this play-acting of Senator Flanders last Friday could only have been for the purpose of getting himself in front of the television cameras.

But, darn it, Vermonters don't act like that! We don't crave notoriety. We don't take it upon ourselves to correct all the evils of society. We cal'ate that folks can run their own lives, if we let 'em alone.

I've got some feelings in this matter and resent Senator Flander's interference and persistent efforts to widen the split in the Republican party.

Who (in Vermont) has forgotten the long, dreary years of the New Deal and the Fair Deal? Who has forgotten the international conferences that conferred strength to our enemies; who has forgotten the "red herrings?"

Yet, Senator Flanders from the staunchly Republican State of Vermont—the always Republican State—now takes it upon himself to go before the Senate of the United States in an endeavor to oust another Republican Senator from his party. At least, that is what Senator Flanders' attacks on Senator McCarthy come down to.

As I wrote last week, I venture to guess that the Vermont Senator will find himself an "isolated Republican." I cannot believe that his colleagues on the Republican side of the aisle will rally to his attack on McCarthy. I was glad to see that Senator Knowland, the Majority Leader, censured Mr. Flanders for his resolution to remove Joe McCarthy from his Committee Chairmanships.

The Ruminator is writing from a home that has been in his family for 126 years. It was first occupied by his Great-Grandfather in 1828, and there has not been a year when members of the descending family have not occupied it also. The said Great-Grandfather was a member of the Vermont Legislature a century ago. So you can see why this writer feels justified in getting "emoted" where Vermont is concerned.

And he certainly cannot comprehend how a man of Mr. Flanders' business background can lose his sense of balance and his sense of proportion. Ralph E. Flanders earned an outstanding reputation as an engineer and machine-tool expert — certainly a profession that is fundamentally based upon accuracy, balance, and proportion.

But why a man who has been so prominent in one field thinks he can correct the shortcomings of politics—about which he has not had time to learn everything!—is quite beyond me. And what is equally important, it is quite out of the spirit of Vermont traditions.

The Ruminator trusts his readers won't mind his also becoming emotional, but this totally uncalled for effort on Senator Flanders' part, which can only injure the Republican party, has the Ruminator feeling as if he "had been sold out" by the Junior Senator from his home state.

THE RUMINATOR

By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

A Column of Contrary Opinion

A large proportion of our citizenry has gone on an emotional jag. Each day, before their television sets, they receive another "shot" which keeps them in high emotional state.

In the meantime, the important affairs of the nation, indeed of the world, receive only "distracted attention." The President, when he has a message for the people, gets second-rate headlines in the newspapers and doubtless a greatly reduced listening and seeing audience. When people spend hours watching the McCarthy-Army hearings they're too worn out to turn on their sets for additional speeches and commentaries.

Because of the manner in which our Vermont senator, Ralph E. Flanders, has projected himself into the limelight as the coming savior of the Republican party, I feel like emoting myself. (I shouldn't admit this, because I have claimed that the Theory of Contrary Thinking makes one more objective and less subject to emotionalism. However, there are exceptions to all rules!)

What I feel like emoting about is the way we Vermonters are being shown up by Senator Flanders. No conservative Vermonter, for example, who prides himself on minding his own business and keeping his nose out of other people's business, would butt into a formal hearing, march up to the witness as he was being questioned, and break into the questioning by handing the witness a message that had nothing whatever to do with the hearing being conducted. Surely, this play-acting of Senator Flanders last Friday could only have been for the purpose of getting himself in front of the television cameras.

But, darn it, Vermonters don't act like that! We don't crave notoriety. We don't take it upon ourselves to correct all the evils of society. We cal'ate that folks can run their own lives, if we let 'em alone.

I've got some feelings in this matter and resent Senator Flander's interference and persistent efforts to widen the split in the Republican party.

Who (in Vermont) has forgotten the long, dreary years of the New Deal and the Fair Deal? Who has forgotten the international conferences that conferred strength to our enemies; who has forgotten the "red herrings?"

Yet, Senator Flanders from the staunchly Republican State of Vermont—the always Republican State—now takes it upon himself to go before the Senate of the United States in an endeavor to oust another Republican Senator from his party. At least, that is what Senator Flanders' attacks on Senator McCarthy come down to.

As I wrote last week, I venture to guess that the Vermont Senator will find himself an "isolated Republican." I cannot believe that his colleagues on the Republican side of the aisle will rally to his attack on McCarthy. I was glad to see that Senator Knowland, the Majority Leader, censured Mr. Flanders for his resolution to remove Joe McCarthy from his Committee Chairmanships.

The Ruminator is writing from a home that has been in his family for 126 years. It was first occupied by his Great-Grandfather in 1828, and there has not been a year when members of the descending family have not occupied it also. The said Great-Grandfather was a member of the Vermont Legislature a century ago. So you can see why this writer feels justified in getting "emoted" where Vermont is concerned.

And he certainly cannot comprehend how a man of Mr. Flanders' business background can lose his sense of balance and his sense of proportion. Ralph E. Flanders earned an outstanding reputation as an engineer and machine-tool expert — certainly a profession that is fundamentally based upon accuracy, balance, and proportion.

But why a man who has been so prominent in one field thinks he can correct the shortcomings of politics—about which he has not had time to learn everything! —is quite beyond me. And what is equally important, it is quite out of the spirit of Vermont traditions.

The Ruminator trusts his readers won't mind his also becoming emotional, but this totally uncalled for effort on Senator Flanders' part, which can only injure the Republican party, has the Ruminator feeling as if he "had been sold out" by the Junior Senator from his home state.

Roche Is Indicted On Murder Counts

New York, June 17 (AP)—It took a grand jury less than two hours yesterday to indict admitted sex slayer John Francis Roache, 26, on four first degree murder counts.

The indictments covered a seven-month spree of theft, lust and sudden death, including the brutal slaying of 14-year-old Dorothy Westwater earlier this month.

Meanwhile a fifth charge loomed against Roche. It could result in freedom for Paul A. Pfeffer, 22, imprisoned last year for 20 years to life in the $6 hold-up slaying of a sleeping sailor, Edward Bates.

Preffer's attorneys have contended his confession in the Bates case was forced from him by illegal means.

Confesses to Murder

Roche reportedly has confessed to the Bates murder, and yesterday Queens County Judge Peter T. Farrell ordered a hearing for next Wednesday on a motion for a new trial for Pfeffer.

The four indictments, handed up with record speed, accuse Roche of the Westwater death and these others:

Rosa Chronik, 85, stabbed to death in a robbery on Nov. 15.

Marion Brown, 17, knifed to death on April 8.

Peter Jablonka, stabbed to death in his cab on April 16.

All four deaths occurred on the east side of Manhattan, three of them not far from where Roche once roomed in Yorkville, and the fourth, that of Jablonka, in front of a police station on East 22nd St. Roche reportedly has admitted these, too.

Car Thief Jailed, Penny Stealer Is Ordered to Florida

One man convicted of an automobile theft was given a prison term in court today by County Judge John M. Cashin, and another on his promise to back to Florida received a suspended sentence on a charge growing out of the theft of $6 in pennies.

Jurors were excused for the term with thanks, and court recessed until 2 p. m. for further criminal matters.

William Tompkins was sentenced to Clinton State Prison, Dannemora, for "borrowing" the car of his employer, Ruth Nardone of Highland.

Second Offender

On his plea of guilty to grand larceny, third degree, Judge Cashin gave him from two and one-half to five years on two counts as a second offender. The sentences are to run concurrently.

Tompkins admitted a prior conviction through his attorney, Bernard A. Culloton, appearing by assignment, and informed the court he had spent time at Napanoch Institution for Male Defective Delinquents.

Ranger Adams of Florida, convicted of unlawful entry in connection with the theft of the pennies, received a suspended sentence of six months in the county jail on condition he return to his home state.

Stole From Employer

Ranger, originally charged with burglary, third degree, along with unlawful entry, was arrested for the theft from his employer in southern Ulster county, where he was a farm laborer.

Several cases on the criminal calendar were moved over the term by District Attorney Howard C. St. John.

Settlement was announced in the partially tried civil action on contract brought by Joseph Horowitz and another against Frank Kordzikowski. Abraham Streifer for plaintiff and Louis G. Bruhn for defendant.

Chinese Sailors Jump Oil Tanker at Albany

Albany, June 17 (AP)—Seven Chinese sailors jumped overboard from the British oil tanker Spondiulus here last night, and police and immigration agents began a widespread search for them today.

The men were part of an all-Chinese crew. The tanker came from Curacao, Netherlands West Indies, and docked Tuesday night.

The sailors apparently eluded a guard stationed at the gangplank, jumped into the river and swam ashore.

Milton Berman, Albany chief immigration officer said the absence of the seven was reported today by one of his agents.

The British captain of the ship said they were nationalist Chinese.

Leaders May Press

Dewey headed the GOP ticket, would like the gubernatorial nomination if Dewey stepped aside.

Republican leaders meanwhile were forced to consider whom they could run in Dewey's stead if U. S. Irving M. Ives, whose name has cropped up most frequently as a likely successor, should refuse.

Ives Repeats Stand

Ives, who has voiced his reluctance many time over the past several months, reiterated his stand yesterday.

"I am not candidate and I do not wish to be," he declared. "I feel very strongly that Gov. Dewey must be drafted to serve again. He has been a great governor and he must continue as governor."

The senator was commenting on a Buffalo Evening News story by Raymond I. Borst, its Albany correspondent.

Borst wrote that one of Dewey's most trusted advisors and closest friends had told him "there is a strong possibility that Mr. Dewey will succeed John Foster Dulles as secretary of state in President Eisenhower's cabinet."

Would Accept Post

According to the Evening News story, Felix Frankfurter, associate justice of the U. S. Supreme Court, was expected to resign within the next few months. Eisenhower would offer the court vacancy to Dulles and the cabinet post to Dewey.

"There was no question," Borst said the advisor told him, "But what the governor would accept the appointment . . ."

In Washington, James C. Hagerty, the President's press secretary, said the report was "absolutely untrue." He said he had talked with Eisenhower about the report and "he told me he hadn't heard anyone mention it to him."

Would Strengthen Ticket

Eisenhower himself told a news conference that Dewey's candidacy would be certain to strengthen the Republican ticket but added that he had not urged Dewey to run again.

The Brooklyn Eagle and the New York Times had different versions of the Dewey abdication.

The Eagle's political columnist, Harold H. Harris, reported Eisenhower wanted Dewey to take a brand new cabinet post of coordinator of federal departments.

The Times said Dewey would quit at the end of his current term—and would take no federal post whatsoever. The newspaper said Dewey's decision was "irrevocable" and that an announcement to that effect would be made within a week or 10 days.

Back to Practice

Dewey was said to be planning to return to private law practice and teaching law. The Times said that negotiations toward forming a new law firm with Dewey as senior partner were nearly completed.

Dewey has been promising newsmen that he would make known his intentions regarding a fourth term this spring. The season ends officially at 6:55 p. m. (EDT) next Monday.

Rep. Dean P. Taylor, Republican state chairman, said the governor had been swamped with requests to run again. The latest came yesterday from the Delaware county Republican committee.

The committee also called for the reelection of Rep. Katherine St. George of Tuxedo, State Sen. Arthur H. Wicks of Kingston, and Assemblyman Edwyn Mason of Hobart.

The Republican State Convention is scheduled for Sept. 22 and 23 in Syracuse.

Would Like to Win

Among reasons given by those who have said Dewey would head the ticket again was his reputed desire to beat Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., regarded as the likely Democratic nominee. It has been said that Dewey, twice defeated in bids for the presidency, was still rankled over his loss at the hands of Roosevelt's father in 1942.

Another purported consideration would be the increased remuneration of a fourth term. Effective with the next term, the governor's salary will increase from $25,000 to $50,000 annually. That does not include such other benefits as occupancy of the executive mansion.

It was certain, however, that Dewey would increase his earnings several fold in private law practice.

The Times pointed out that the governor would forfeit his eligibility for an increased state pension if he retired at the end of the year. The newspaper said he would be eligible for a $9,000 pension, based on his present salary, compared to $24,000 based on the new gubernatorial salary.

Financial and Commercial

New York, June 17 (AP)—The stock market faltered and turned mixed in the early afternoon today after a higher start.

Yesterday the market hit a new high since 1929, and it continued to march ahead at the opening today.

After the opening rush of buying orders was absorbed, the pace slackened and prices started to move away from their tops. By early afternoon the market was mixed.

Prices spread out over a range of between 1 and 2 points in either direction. At the same time, the rate of trading slowed to a pace below yesterday's 2,070,000 shares.

Roche Is Indicted On Murder Counts

New York, June 17 (AP)—It took a grand jury less than two hours yesterday to indict admitted sex slayer John Francis Roache, 26, on four first degree murder counts.

The indictments covered a seven-month spree of theft, lust and sudden death, including the brutal slaying of 14-year-old Dorothy Westwater earlier this month.

Meanwhile a fifth charge loomed against Roche. It could result in freedom for Paul A. Pfeffer, 22, imprisoned last year for 20 years to life in the $6 holdup slaying of a sleeping sailor, Edward Bates.

Preffer's attorneys have contended his confession in the Bates case was forced from him by illegal means.

Confesses to Murder

Roche reportedly has confessed to the Bates murder, and yesterday Queens County Judge Peter T. Farrell ordered a hearing for next Wednesday on a motion for a new trial for Pfeffer.

The four indictments, handed up with record speed, accuse Roche of the Westwater death and these others:

Rosa Chronik, 85, stabbed to death in a robbery on Nov. 15.

Marion Brown, 17, knifed to death on April 8.

Peter Jablonka, stabbed to death in his cab on April 16.

All four deaths occurred on the east side of Manhattan, three of them not far from where Roche once roomed in Yorkville, and the fourth, that of Jablonka, in front of a police station on East 22nd St. Roche reportedly has admitted these, too.

Car Thief Jailed, Penny Stealer Is Ordered to Florida

One man convicted of an automobile theft was given a prison term in court today by County Judge John M. Cashin, and another on his promise to back to Florida received a suspended sentence on a charge growing out of the theft of $6 in pennies.

Jurors were excused for the term with thanks, and court recessed until 2 p. m. for further criminal matters.

William Tompkins was sentenced to Clinton State Prison, Dannemora, for "borrowing" the car of his employer, Ruth Nardone of Highland.

Second Offender

On his plea of guilty to grand larceny, third degree, Judge Cashin gave him from two and one-half to five years on two counts as a second offender. The sentences are to run concurrently.

Tompkins admitted a prior conviction through his attorney, Bernard A. Culloton, appearing by assignment, and informed the court he had spent time at Napanoch Institution for Male Defective Delinquents.

Ranger Adams of Florida, convicted of unlawful entry in connection with the theft of the pennies, received a suspended sentence of six months in the county jail on condition he return to his home state.

Stole From Employer

Ranger, originally charged with burglary, third degree, along with unlawful entry, was arrested for the theft from his employer in southern Ulster county, where he was a farm laborer.

Several cases on the criminal calendar were moved over the term by District Attorney Howard C. St. John.

Chinese Sailors Jump Oil Tanker at Albany

Albany, June 17 (AP)—Seven Chinese sailors jumped overboard from the British oil tanker Spondiulus here last night, and police and immigration agents began a widespread search for them today.

The men were part of an all-Chinese crew. The tanker came from Curacao, Netherlands West Indies, and docked Tuesday night.

The sailors apparently eluded a guard stationed at the gangplank, jumped into the river and swam ashore.

Milton Berman, Albany chief immigration officer said the absence of the seven was reported today by one of his agents.

The British captain of the ship said they were nationalist Chinese.

Leaders May Press

Dewey headed the GOP ticket, would like the gubernatorial nomination if Dewey stepped aside.

Republican leaders meanwhile were forced to consider whom they could run in Dewey's stead if U. S. Irving M. Ives, whose name has cropped up most frequently as a likely successor, should refuse.

Ives Repeats Stand

Ives, who has voiced his reluctance many time over the past several months, reiterated his stand yesterday.

"I am not candidate and I do not wish to be," he declared. "I feel very strongly that Gov. Dewey must be drafted to serve again. He has been a great governor and he must continue as governor."

The senator was commenting on a Buffalo Evening News story by Raymond I. Borst, its Albany correspondent.

Borst wrote that one of Dewey's most trusted advisors and closest friends had told him "there is a strong possibility that Mr. Dewey will succeed John Foster Dulles as secretary of state in President Eisenhower's cabinet."

Would Accept Post

According to the Evening News story, Felix Frankfurter, associate justice of the U. S. Supreme Court, was expected to resign within the next few months. Eisenhower would offer the court vacancy to Dulles and the cabinet post to Dewey.

"There was no question," Borst said the advisor told him, "But what the governor would accept the appointment . . ."

In Washington, James C. Hagerty, the President's press secretary, said the report was "absolutely untrue." He said he had talked with Eisenhower about the report and "he told me he hadn't heard anyone mention it to him."

Would Strengthen Ticket

Eisenhower himself told a news conference that Dewey's candidacy would be certain to strengthen the Republican ticket but added that he had not urged Dewey to run again.

The Brooklyn Eagle and the New York Times had different versions of the Dewey abdication.

The Eagle's political columnist, Harold H. Harris, reported Eisenhower wanted Dewey to take a brand new cabinet post of coordinator of federal departments.

The Times said Dewey would quit at the end of his current term—and would take no federal post whatsoever. The newspaper said Dewey's decision was "irrevocable" and that an announcement to that effect would be made within a week or 10 days.

Back to Practice

Dewey was said to be planning to return to private law practice and teaching law. The Times said that negotiations toward forming a new law firm with Dewey as senior partner were nearly completed.

Dewey has been promising newsmen that he would make known his intentions regarding a fourth term this spring. The season ends officially at 6:55 p. m. (EDT) next Monday.

Rep. Dean P. Taylor, Republican state chairman, said the governor had been swamped with requests to run again. The latest came yesterday from the Delaware county Republican committee.

The committee also called for the reelection of Rep. Katherine St. George of Tuxedo, State Sen. Arthur H. Wicks of Kingston, and Assemblyman Edwyn Mason of Hobart.

The Republican State Convention is scheduled for Sept. 22 and 23 in Syracuse.

Would Like to Win

Among reasons given by those who have said Dewey would head the ticket again was his reputed desire to beat Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., regarded as the likely Democratic nominee. It has been said that Dewey, twice defeated in bids for the presidency, was still rankled over his loss at the hands of Roosevelt's father in 1942.

Another purported consideration would be the increased remuneration of a fourth term. Effective with the next term, the governor's salary will increase from $25,000 to $50,000 annually. That does not include such other benefits as occupancy of the executive mansion.

It was certain, however, that Dewey would increase his earnings several fold in private law practice.

The Times pointed out that the governor would forfeit his eligibility for an increased state pension if he retired at the end of the year. The newspaper said he would be eligible for a $9,000 pension, based on his present salary, compared to $24,000 based on the new gubernatorial salary.

Financial and Commercial

New York, June 17 (AP)—The stock market faltered and turned mixed in the early afternoon today after a higher start.

Yesterday the market hit a new high since 1929, and it continued to march ahead at the opening today.

After the opening rush of buying orders was absorbed, the pace slackened and prices started to move away from their tops. By early afternoon the market was mixed.

Prices spread out over a range of between 1 and 2 points in either direction. At the same time, the rate of trading slowed to a pace below yesterday's 2,070,000 shares.

Whipsnakes are clumsy and awkward on the ground, but they are very much at home in trees. Their slender bodies blend in with the branches and make them difficult to see. Many a lizard or other small creature has felt their fangs when his eyes had not warned him of danger.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

Looking through a Kingston Weekly Freeman of Thursday, Nov. 28, 1907 issue I notice the Uneeda Biscuits were featured at five cent a box. According to the advertisement it was "the most nutritious staple made from wheat." In those days they were a must in many homes. Zu zu ginger snaps was another nickel item we liked, all gone with the five cent ice cream soda and trolley ride. Those also were the days of horses and their escapades. I see in the same paper that a horse owned by Peter P. Zeeh got frisky and tore itself loose from a tie post on Uuion street and took off. It was Sunday morning and Rondout was full of people going and coming from churches. A large crowd of boys chased after the runaway horse to no avail. Men tried to head the animal off, but the horse turned in a street and escaped. For a half hour or more the horse tore around The Strand, Hasbrouck avenue and Mill street, but was finally cornered in an alley off Murray street. Luckily no damage was done to the rig or the horse. In fact the horse still had on its Sunday blanket when caught.

I notice in the October 24 issue of the above year, the famous John Burroughs, naturalist from West Park, came over to Rondout in his motor boat. He was accompanied by his son, Julian, and a party of ladies. Mr. Burroughs said, "It was too delightful to remain at home on a day like this, and besides the boat needed exercise. The ladies also wanted to do some errands, and so we combined business with pleasure."

They say in one drug magazine "as the good old summertime draws near, more folks will be taking to outdoors and their many will come in contact with three of nature's less popular products, poison ivy, poison oak and poison sumac. It is said some 1,000,000 to over 10,000,000 suffer every year from these harmless looking plants, and some eight million dollars will be spent on medication. I have asked a lot of old timers what they did to kill the plants years ago. Some used plain boiling hot water on the leaves, others put on gloves and try to pull out the whole plant, others using boiling water with salt, others used oil from a car. Poison ivy seems to pop up all over, near fences, between rose bushes, so that you hate to pour on anything that will destroy other plants. Kingston Board of Public Works has a preparation they use to try to control the plant in the city parks. It drys the leaves right up, but of course they cannot physically cover the some 100 miles of streets to kill all of it. Boiling water will destroy the leaves, it is harmless to use, cheap and easy and may protect one from ivy itch and blisters. To fight the itch when it isn't too serious various household items like Epsom salts solution used, calamine lotion, camphor, menthol, and even hot tea rubbed on it helps, according to old timers. Old farmers have told me, never to burn the leaves for then you can really get poison ivy that will send you to bed for weeks. If you think you have come in contact with it, wash your hands and arms with hot water and brown soap to remove the oily substance found on the leaves which produces the trouble. I wonder what the Indians did about these poison leaves long ago. What interests me, is, why can poison ivy have such healthy big green leaves while respectable flowers nearby seem to be puny.

Tree Snake

Whipsnakes are clumsy and awkward on the ground, but they are very much at home in trees. Their slender bodies blend in with the branches and make them difficult to see. Many a lizard or other small creature has felt their fangs when his eyes had not warned him of danger.

How to Make INSTANT BEVERAGES

Pour Grapette® Fruit Flavored Syrup (your choice of 8 delicious concentrates) in a glass or pitcher. Add water and ice to taste. USE NO SUGAR — sweetness and real flavor magic are built in.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

Looking through a Kingston Weekly Freeman of Thursday, Nov. 28, 1907 issue I notice the Uneeda Biscuits were featured at five cent a box. According to the advertisement it was "the most nutritious staple made from wheat." In those days they were a must in many homes. Zu zu ginger snaps was another nickel item we liked, all gone with the five cent ice cream soda and trolley ride. Those also were the days of horses and their escapades. I see in the same paper that a horse owned by Peter P. Zeeh got frisky and tore itself loose from a tie post on Uuion street and took off. It was Sunday morning and Rondout was full of people going and coming from churches. A large crowd of boys chased after the runaway horse to no avail. Men tried to head the animal off, but the horse turned in a street and escaped. WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, Jr.

Committees Report At Auxiliary Parley

Woodstock, June 16 — Reports by committee chairmen were presented at the regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary, Post 1026, Monday night at the Legion Hall.

A total of 20 pounds of white goods was given to the Rosary Hill Cancer Hospital. Coupons received were 76½ regular and 139 miscellaneous.

Prizes amounting to $5 each will be given to the boy and girl of the graduation class of the Woodstock Elementary School, who have done the most for the community.

The amount received from the poppy sale was $75.35, which will be used for welfare purposes.

Since the nominating committee was unable to present a slate of officers for the coming year, a special meeting will be called in the next two weeks to hear their report.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. William Melville, Mrs. Clayton Harder and Mrs. Wayne Underhill. There will be no meetings during July and August.

Children's Classes To Begin June 28

Woodstock, June 16—Children's classes at the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen, under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Wetterau, will begin Monday, June 28, to be held four days a week, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, from 9:30 a. m. to 11:30 a. m. Further information concerning registration and terms may be obtained by inquiry at the Guild.

Classes will be limited this year, and the group will specialize in puppet making. Mrs. Wetterau, who created the puppets for the Rip Van Winkle Retreat at North Lake, which are seen daily in the puppet shows there, plans to have the group create the puppets for a show to be presented at the Woodstock Library Fair, in July. During August the class will plan a puppet show to be presented at the Guild during the Labor Day weekend.

Brownies Observe Birthday at Picnic

Woodstock, June 16 — Members of Girl Scout Brownie Troop 82, of the Onteora School, celebrated their first birthday with a picnic Saturday at the Vosburgh Mill in Shady. The Brownies made their own individual Buddy Burners, according to Scout procedure, over which they cooked their hamburgers. They concluded the meal with a birthday cake.

Accompanied by Mrs. Daniel Kleine, leader, and Mrs. Beldon Hyatt, assistant, the following troop members received their one-year pins, presented by Mrs. Hyatt: Susan Costa, Woodstock; Susan Shultis, Edith Van Der Bogart and Shirley May, Wittenberg; Mary Keefe, Wendy Hyatt, Patricia Lapo and Rae Anne Kleine, Shady; and Marie Wilber, Lake Hill.

Also in attendance at the party were the newly invested Brownies, Barbara Kleine of Shady, and Anala Shultis of Wittenberg.

Village Notes

Mrs. Bonnie McManus had as her weekend guests Katherine Kelley and Nancy Delaney of Atlantic City, N. J.

The trophies to be awarded at the Horse Show, sponsored by the Woodstock Riding Club, Sunday, June 27, will be on view in the window of the Woodstock Colonial Pharmacy beginning Monday, June 21, for the week preceding the show.

Robin Wetterau, son of Mrs. Margaret Wetterau of this village, will play with his band, The Dixieland Rhythm Kings, at the Barn this weekend. The Dixieland Rhythm Kings have completed a three week engagement at the Club Savoy in Boston, and prior to that were in Dayton, O., for a month, and doing short stands in New York. Following their Kingston appearance they will go to Wheeling, W. Va.

The annual luncheon meeting of the Woodstock public health nursing committee will be held at the Holiday Inn, on Route 28-A three miles from Boiceville, in West Shokan, Thursday, June 24, at 12:45 p. m. Reservations may be obtained by calling Mrs. William K. Gregory or Mrs. Victor Busch.

Mrs. Leo Herbert, Girl Scout community chairman, accompanied by Mrs. Gerald Green, went to Camp Wendy in Wallkill, to attend Girl Scout activities. The Camp Caravan, which left in October, with Kit Hammett, for a tour of the county, and now in this vicinity, was at Camy Wendy. Mrs. Herbert and Mrs. Green attended meetings held Thursday and Friday for experienced Scout leaders, and on Saturday for the outdoor workshop for the inexperienced leaders and councilors. Leaders and troop committee members attended from Putnam, Dutchess, Orange, Rockland and Ulster counties.

Miss Berta Frey, of Bearsville, was one of the judges in the weaving division, of the fifth annual exhibition of handcrafts by young Americans, now on view in the gallery of America House, New York. The exhibit opened Wednesday and contains the results of nationwide competition open only to craftsmen 30 years old or younger. The display includes 169 works designed and made by nearly as many artisans from all over the country. It is one of the projects of the American Craftsmen's Educational Council.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, Jr.

Committees Report At Auxiliary Parley

Woodstock, June 16 — Reports by committee chairmen were presented at the regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary, Post 1026, Monday night at the Legion Hall.

A total of 20 pounds of white goods was given to the Rosary Hill Cancer Hospital. Coupons received were 76½ regular and 139 miscellaneous.

Prizes amounting to $5 each will be given to the boy and girl of the graduation class of the Woodstock Elementary School, who have done the most for the community.

The amount received from the poppy sale was $75.35, which will be used for welfare purposes.

Since the nominating committee was unable to present a slate of officers for the coming year, a special meeting will be called in the next two weeks to hear their report.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. William Melville, Mrs. Clayton Harder and Mrs. Wayne Underhill. There will be no meetings during July and August.

Children's Classes To Begin June 28

Woodstock, June 16—Children's classes at the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen, under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Wetterau, will begin Monday, June 28, to be held four days a week, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, from 9:30 a. m. to 11:30 a. m. Further information concerning registration and terms may be obtained by inquiry at the Guild.

Classes will be limited this year, and the group will specialize in puppet making. Mrs. Wetterau, who created the puppets for the Rip Van Winkle Retreat at North Lake, which are seen daily in the puppet shows there, plans to have the group create the puppets for a show to be presented at the Woodstock Library Fair, in July. During August the class will plan a puppet show to be presented at the Guild during the Labor Day weekend.

Brownies Observe Birthday at Picnic

Woodstock, June 16 — Members of Girl Scout Brownie Troop 82, of the Onteora School, celebrated their first birthday with a picnic Saturday at the Vosburgh Mill in Shady. The Brownies made their own individual Buddy Burners, according to Scout procedure, over which they cooked their hamburgers. They concluded the meal with a birthday cake.

Accompanied by Mrs. Daniel Kleine, leader, and Mrs. Beldon Hyatt, assistant, the following troop members received their one-year pins, presented by Mrs. Hyatt: Susan Costa, Woodstock; Susan Shultis, Edith Van Der Bogart and Shirley May, Wittenberg; Mary Keefe, Wendy Hyatt, Patricia Lapo and Rae Anne Kleine, Shady; and Marie Wilber, Lake Hill.

Also in attendance at the party were the newly invested Brownies, Barbara Kleine of Shady, and Anala Shultis of Wittenberg.

Village Notes

Mrs. Bonnie McManus had as her weekend guests Katherine Kelley and Nancy Delaney of Atlantic City, N. J.

The trophies to be awarded at the Horse Show, sponsored by the Woodstock Riding Club, Sunday, June 27, will be on view in the window of the Woodstock Colonial Pharmacy beginning Monday, June 21, for the week preceding the show.

Robin Wetterau, son of Mrs. Margaret Wetterau of this village, will play with his band, The Dixieland Rhythm Kings, at the Barn this weekend. The Dixieland Rhythm Kings have completed a three week engagement at the Club Savoy in Boston, and prior to that were in Dayton, O., for a month, and doing short stands in New York. Following their Kingston appearance they will go to Wheeling, W. Va.

The annual luncheon meeting of the Woodstock public health nursing committee will be held at the Holiday Inn, on Route 28-A three miles from Boiceville, in West Shokan, Thursday, June 24, at 12:45 p. m. Reservations may be obtained by calling Mrs. William K. Gregory or Mrs. Victor Busch.

Mrs. Leo Herbert, Girl Scout community chairman, accompanied by Mrs. Gerald Green, went to Camp Wendy in Wallkill, to attend Girl Scout activities. The Camp Caravan, which left in October, with Kit Hammett, for a tour of the county, and now in this vicinity, was at Camy Wendy. Mrs. Herbert and Mrs. Green attended meetings held Thursday and Friday for experienced Scout leaders, and on Saturday for the outdoor workshop for the inexperienced leaders and councilors. Leaders and troop committee members attended from Putnam, Dutchess, Orange, Rockland and Ulster counties.

Miss Berta Frey, of Bearsville, was one of the judges in the weaving division, of the fifth annual exhibition of handcrafts by young Americans, now on view in the gallery of America House, New York. The exhibit opened Wednesday and contains the results of nationwide competition open only to craftsmen 30 years old or younger. The display includes 169 works designed and made by nearly as many artisans from all over the country. It is one of the projects of the American Craftsmen's Educational Council.

Youngest Elephant Trainer

Miss Marsha Hunt, world's youngest elephant trainer, granddaughter of Charles T. Hunt, Sr., a native of Kingston, poses with her pet elephant, Rahnee. They are featured in Hunt Brothers Circus which plays at Dietz Stadium parking lot, Monday, for Charles DeWitt Council 91, JOUAM.

There are 52 species of fur-bearing animals in the Great Smoky Mountains National Park.

Hunt Comes Home For JOUAM Circus Uptown Monday

Monday will be a big day for one man in particular and all the others who belong to Charles DeWitt Council 91, Junior Order of United American Mechanics.

The individual is Charles T. Hunt, Sr., returning to his native city, and the birthplace of the circus business he started in 1892.

Reason for the intense interest of the JOUAM is because the fraternal organization is sponsoring the circus, now known as Hunt Brothers, offering all the features to be found under any big top.

Hunt, 81 years young, as he prefers it, rolls in annually to present his Spangleland extravaganza, and shake hands with old friends and new. He generally leaves with a sore arm.

This year's Junior Order circus will play on the parking lot of Robert Dietz Stadium, uptown.

Members of the fraternal group are selling tickets in advance on which they'll collect a percentage as sponsors.

Critics Praise Circus

Hunt's advance agents praise this year's show as the best ever produced by the recognized dean of the sawdust trail, and back their drum beating by glorifying press reviews, written by impartial critics.

C. T. chimes right in with them. "Hunt Brothers matches anything on the road," he says, beaming about the reputation he enjoys among those in his chosen field.

The Hunt show continues to be a family affair, with everybody pitching in as performers or technicians. And, everything goes smoothly with Charlie as a guide.

Marsha His Favorite

Who is the apple of his eye on the show? His granddaughter, Marsha, billed as the youngest elephant trainer in the world.

"She moves the big bulls around with the best of them," Granddad proudly boasts.

He's getting a new elephant for her now, the smallest in any circus, he said, and expects it to be in Kingston for the Mechanics' show.

The 1954 program of Hunt Bros. Circus includes the Amazing Monahans with their trampoline and casting act; Don Philips, youthful unicycle-juggler; Phil and Bonnie Bonta with their South American perch act; Mlle. Gabrielle and her wonder horse Silhouette; Happy Spitzer and his comedy mule Frances; plus wire walkers, balancers, gymnasts, acrobats, trained horses and dogs, and the herd of seven educated elephants.

And, not to be forgotten, are the funny clowns to make merry for the grownups as well as the children.

Patrolman Harold DeGraff and Charles Lord of the central post office staff, two JOUAM members active in promoting the show feel that their project will pay well for their organization.

62 Years of Success

How can we miss with a 62-year-old successful institution that has traveled the east coast from Virginia to Maine, they figure. And, they point out that the record shows Hunt Brothers have played some of the outstanding localities.

Charles T. Hunt is an author, too, having written The Story of Mr. Circus, the name people in the entertainment world choose to call him. It's full of interesting anecdotes dating back to his boyhood in Kingston.

Back to Starting Point

Hunt pointed out for a reporter that the lot uptown, where he'll play Monday, is only a stone throw from the birthplace of the circus, in the vicinity where his father, John Hunt, ran a hotel and livery stable.

It was from this locality that the 19-year-old showman proudly drove away with his two wagons and four horses, borrowed from his dad, and started on his first tour which was to carry him through the Spanish-American War, two world wars, a depression, all without missing a single season on the road.

And from this modest beginning has arisen what is acclaimed as the leading motorized circus of the east, playing to hundreds of thousands of patrons each year along the Atlantic seaboard from Virginia to Maine.

"Almost every year since I started my show in Kingston I have paid a visit to my home town," he said.

For many years Hunt Circus made its winter quarters in Kingston, then shifted and since 1942 has been located in Florence Township near Burlington, N. J.

Children Assist

Hunt is assisted in the operation and management of his circus by his three sons, Charles, Jr., Harry and Edward.

A daughter, Charlotte, has been among the featured performers since she was able to walk.

Their mother was the former Carrie Grice Tronson, a native of the downtown section of Kingston, who died on February 13, 1948, after a happy married life of 55 years.

Hunt's book tells of lean years as well as the prosperous ones during which "my wife stuck with me," having faith about success.

The first balloons were launched in 1783.

Hartford, Conn. (AP)—James J. Hughes fell and was injured while walking to his job from a company parking lot. The Connecticut Supreme Court of Errors ruled that he was entitled to workmen's compensation benefits. Walking across company property to and from work, the court said, can reasonably be considered "an incident of the employment."

The extreme height to which Douglas fir trees will grow is hard to record, because most of the older trees have broken tops.

The Missouri river is about twice the length of the upper Mississippi. Had it been discovered first, the Missouri probably would have been considered the principal source, with the present upper Mississippi as the tributary.

The Daddy of 'em All!

This Sunday, June 20th, we celebrate Father's Day. Here at A&P, we see quite a lot of father these days . . . he's doing more and more of the family shopping. This is quite a change from the days when we opened the forerunner of today's chain stores in 1859. (We're proud of the fact that your A&P is "the daddy of 'em all"!) In those days, mamma did the shopping, papa paid the bills, and the pantry shelf was a mystery to man.

One thing hasn't changed. Father still gets more good food for his money at A&P! And A&P's year-round policy of store-wide low prices assures father of maximum change from his dollar!

So as Father's Day nears, we invite all you men to come see . . . come save . . . at A&P.

Sound Investment Lost

New Haven, Conn. (AP)—Bridge tenders on a New Haven drawbridge had to put off buying a radio for their shed. For more than a year, each contributed 10 cents a week to the radio fund. They had built the fund up to $33.50—just about enough for a radio—when a thief broke into the shed and stole the money.

RIVAL DOG FOOD
NATURAL COLOR of cooked meat — never an artificial red

Weekly Food Review

(By The Associated Press)

Top or bottom round roast, chuck roast and poultry will be among the favorite features in the meat departments of the nation's food stores this weekend.

Round roast—"a good eating roast," one meat specialist calls it—will be off around six cents a pound in some outlets. Chuck roast prices also will be trimmed a bit.

Smaller turkeys are being featured prominently in some areas, with an eye to Father's Day Sunday. Reductions range to eight cents a pound. There'll also be considerable emphasis on broiling and frying chickens, and here and there you'll find stewing chickens at lower prices.

Other Features

Other features mentioned by scattered stores: Leg of lamb, leg of veal, rib roast and pork chops.

Some cuts of pork came down rather sharply at the wholesale level this week, and some meat men expect to post reduced prices next week on items like loin of pork. Lamb, beef and veal also dropped a bit at wholesale. Generally, it's a week before price changes at wholesale are reflected in your local store.

Eggs advanced a couple of cents a dozen in a few areas this week, but for the most part they're the same price as a week ago. Butter showed no change.

Many more vegetables are beginning to arrive from nearby growing sections. Produce men list cabbage, lettuce, beets and green beans as especially good buys. They also recommend cauliflower, parsley, peppers, potatoes, onions, spinach and tomatoes. Some stores will have special prices on fresh corn.

Strawberries Best Buy

Strawberries are considered about the best buy in fruits. In the east, they are passing the peak of the season, with prices about the same as they have been. West coast strawberries are arriving in eastern markets.

Peaches are rated as the No. 2 buy. There are plenty of them, mostly from the south. Both peaches and plums are described as moderately priced.

Produce experts note that there are ample supplies of limes for iced tea and more stimulating drinks. Among citrus fruits, grapefruit is about the best buy, however.

Cantaloupes are about as low as they'll go this season, according to the produce men.

Among the more exotic new arrivals are mangos from Florida and papayas from Hawaii. Other newcomers: raspberries and blueberries, apricots and nectarines, and seedless and cardinal grapes from the west. The first nearby cherries are beginning to arrive at wholesale markets in some sections of the country.

Chain stores raised the prices of their own brands of coffee this week. The price hikes covered a range of two to six cents a pound.

Sound Investment Lost

New Haven, Conn. (AP)—Bridge tenders on a New Haven drawbridge had to put off buying a radio for their shed. For more than a year, each contributed 10 cents a week to the radio fund. They had built the fund up to $33.50—just about enough for a radio—when a thief broke into the shed and stole the money.

Weekly Food Review

(By The Associated Press)

Top or bottom round roast, chuck roast and poultry will be among the favorite features in the meat departments of the nation's food stores this weekend.

Round roast—"a good eating roast," one meat specialist calls it—will be off around six cents a pound in some outlets. Chuck roast prices also will be trimmed a bit.

Smaller turkeys are being featured prominently in some areas, with an eye to Father's Day Sunday. Reductions range to eight cents a pound. There'll also be considerable emphasis on broiling and frying chickens, and here and there you'll find stewing chickens at lower prices.

Guest From England Speaker at Ulster Garden Club Meeting

Miss Marjorie Strachey of England, who is the guest of Mrs. Frances Leggett in Stone Ridge, was the speaker at the Ulster Garden Club's June meeting at Mrs. Leggett's home.

Miss Strachey, sister of Lytton Strachey, famed English author, read a paper entitled Reminiscences of Bloomsbury, which she had prepared at the request of Richard Saunders, professor of English at Duke University, and which she recently read at Duke. Miss Strachey knew intimately the members of the famed Bloomsbury Group, which was a literary and artistic coterie living in London during the first 30 years of this century. Among members of the group best known in America were Virginia Woolf and her husband, Leonard Woolf, the art critics Clive Bell and Roger Fry, and Miss Strachey's brother Lytton, author of Queen Victoria, Eminent Victorians, and Elizabeth and Essex. Miss Strachey's paper was a humorous account of her recollections of this group of people, many of whom produced works of great artistic excellence, and two of whom at least, Strachey and Virginia Woolf, seem assured of a permanent place in English letters.

Miss Strachey remarked that Professor Saunders is the author of a recently published work, The Strachey Family, and that the manuscript of Elizabeth and Essex is now in the possession of Duke University.

Mrs. William Hasbrouck and Miss Katherine Hasbrouck poured for the tea which followed Miss Strachey's talk.

Marion Higgins Elected Delta Kappa Gamma President

The second annual picnic meeting was held Saturday, June 12, at Mrs. Frieda Dingee's camp on the Esopus, with 34 members of Alpha Chapter, Delta Kappa Gamma, in attendance. Following the picnic lunch on the terrace, the business meeting was held.

A corsage was presented to Mrs. Alice Keiser of Poughkeepsie who is retiring from teaching this month, and will go to Florida with her husband the coming year.

A gift was also given to Miss Rose Bell Chapman of Newburgh, charter member of Alpha Chapter, who recently celebrated her 90th birthday.

The officers for the next two years were elected as follows: Marion Higgins, Highland Falls, president; Mary Brown, Poughkeepsie, first vice president; Adiska Conro, Kingston, second vice president; Anna Devine, Rifton, treasurer and Mary Polhemus, Port Ewen, parliamentarian.

Those attending from Kingston were Miss Gladys Nickerson, Miss Mary Polhemus, Misses Anna Dell and May Quimby, and the Mmes. Dorothy Buehring, Bertha Connelly, retiring president; Frieda Dingee, Arvetta Russell, Thelma Schwab and Anna Sitzer.

Good Taste Today

A GREAT STRAIN ON HER FEELINGS

A mother writes me: "My daughter-in-law is remarrying soon. My son (her husband) was killed in the war. I have been invited to the wedding and reception and also to a shower which is being given for her. Although I think a great deal of my daughter-in-law and wish her every happiness, I just can't bring myself to go to the shower or the wedding. My main problem is: Would I offend my daughter-in-law by staying away or am I obliged to put aside my own feelings and go to the wedding in order to spare her feelings and not have people believe I stayed away because I disapprove of the marriage?"

I do not think that you are called upon to go through the unhappiness that you could not help but feel by going to the wedding. I am sure that if you told your daughter-in-law that you love her enough to wish her happiness, she surely will understand why you are not able to be present.

Greeting the Bridesmaids

Dear Mrs. Post: What should be said to the maid of honor and bridesmaids who stand in the receiving line? Guests congratulate the parents and the bridegroom and wish the bride happiness. But I'm at a loss to know what to say to the others.

Answer: As you shake hands, you say whatever is pleasant and true, such as how beautiful the bride is, or what a perfect wedding, or how lovely the bridesmaids look, how becoming her dress is to her, and pass on.

Including Wife's Name

Dear Mrs. Post: My employer and his wife will soon celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary and I would like to send them some flowers on this occasion. In signing the card to enclose with them, should my wife's name be included or should they be sent from me alone? My wife has never met them.

Answer: If you know them well yourself and frequently have talked about your wife to them, her name may very properly be included. But if she is a complete stranger to them, the flowers would best be sent from you alone.

Guest From England Speaker at Ulster Garden Club Meeting

Miss Marjorie Strachey of England, who is the guest of Mrs. Frances Leggett in Stone Ridge, was the speaker at the Ulster Garden Club's June meeting at Mrs. Leggett's home.

Miss Strachey, sister of Lytton Strachey, famed English author, read a paper entitled Reminiscences of Bloomsbury, which she had prepared at the request of Richard Saunders, professor of English at Duke University, and which she recently read at Duke. Miss Strachey knew intimately the members of the famed Bloomsbury Group, which was a literary and artistic coterie living in London during the first 30 years of this century. Among members of the group best known in America were Virginia Woolf and her husband, Leonard Woolf, the art critics Clive Bell and Roger Fry, and Miss Strachey's brother Lytton, author of Queen Victoria, Eminent Victorians, and Elizabeth and Essex. Miss Strachey's paper was a humorous account of her recollections of this group of people, many of whom produced works of great artistic excellence, and two of whom at least, Strachey and Virginia Woolf, seem assured of a permanent place in English letters.

Miss Strachey remarked that Professor Saunders is the author of a recently published work, The Strachey Family, and that the manuscript of Elizabeth and Essex is now in the possession of Duke University.

Mrs. William Hasbrouck and Miss Katherine Hasbrouck poured for the tea which followed Miss Strachey's talk.

A gift was also given to Miss Rose Bell Chapman of Newburgh, charter member of Alpha Chapter, who recently celebrated her 90th birthday.

The officers for the next two years were elected as follows: Marion Higgins, Highland Falls, president; Mary Brown, Poughkeepsie, first vice president; Adiska Conro, Kingston, second vice president; Anna Devine, Rifton, treasurer and Mary Polhemus, Port Ewen, parliamentarian.

Good Taste Today

By EMILY POST

(Author of Etiquette, Children Are People, etc.)

A GREAT STRAIN ON HER FEELINGS

A mother writes me: "My daughter-in-law is remarrying soon. My son (her husband) was killed in the war. I have been invited to the wedding and reception and also to a shower which is being given for her. Although I think a great deal of my daughter-in-law and wish her every happiness, I just can't bring myself to go to the shower or the wedding. My main problem is: Would I offend my daughter-in-law by staying away or am I obliged to put aside my own feelings and go to the wedding in order to spare her feelings and not have people believe I stayed away because I disapprove of the marriage?"

I do not think that you are called upon to go through the unhappiness that you could not help but feel by going to the wedding. I am sure that if you told your daughter-in-law that you love her enough to wish her happiness, she surely will understand why you are not able to be present.

Greeting the Bridesmaids

Dear Mrs. Post: What should be said to the maid of honor and bridesmaids who stand in the receiving line? Guests congratulate the parents and the bridegroom and wish the bride happiness. But I'm at a loss to know what to say to the others.

Answer: As you shake hands, you say whatever is pleasant and true, such as how beautiful the bride is, or what a perfect wedding, or how lovely the bridesmaids look, how becoming her dress is to her, and pass on.

Including Wife's Name

Dear Mrs. Post: My employer and his wife will soon celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary and I would like to send them some flowers on this occasion. In signing the card to enclose with them, should my wife's name be included or should they be sent from me alone? My wife has never met them.

Answer: If you know them well yourself and frequently have talked about your wife to them, her name may very properly be included. But if she is a complete stranger to them, the flowers would best be sent from you alone.

As a culmination of this program it is anticipated that one of the studied county problems will be chosen at the annual meeting as the endorsed Council project.

The following new members were elected to serve on the Council: Mrs. Raymond Garraghan, Mrs. Thomas Connelly, Mrs. Herman Knaust, Mrs. Sherwood Davis, Mrs. Richard Jones, Mrs. William Schiff, Mrs. Gifford Beal, Harry Thayer, Harry Gold, Dan Weisburg and Clarence Tompkins.

Adrian Kaplan, president, announced the next meeting for Sept. 21.

REGULAR DRIP EXTRA FINE

Think It Through

By EDWARD F. HUTTON

Today, I should like to cable a friendly message to our friends in the EDC—European Defense Community—but to cable costs money.

Our Government has been most generous with the taxpayers' "sugar" to keep sweetened our relations. But, it grieves me no end to keep sending my money to support our relations, who won't support their generous cousins "across the pond."

Mr. Hutton

The only thing we politely and economically ask in return for our generous support is: Will our good friends (?) in the EDC supply us with "X" number of divisions?

During the last twenty years our friends abroad have been lulled into believing that somehow our Government could do all things, for all people, in all countries. Without realizing that our Government hasn't a thin dime, except the dimes it takes from the people's earnings, their views involved a very large contract.

Our pockets are worn thin, my dear EDC friends, from Government hands constantly dipping and dipping and taking out our dimes.

Now, boys, you know we have played the game sincerely since 1939. Our friends who asked — sure got. Some were too proud to ask — but they, too, got.

You may take comfort in the thought that America is a great and generous country—richly endowed—and can survive continuing gifts. That may be! But after the undertaker has patted the present taxpayers in the face with a shovel — what then?

What think, neighbor?

Radar for Weather

Rantoul, Ill. (AP)—A radar designed especially for weather observations is being installed at Chanute Air Base. It will permit students and forecasters to scan clouds within a 250-mile radius of the base. Similar equipment is to be installed throughout the United States, Brig. Gen. Thomas S. Moorman, Jr., chief of the Air Force's Air Weather Service, says.

Tax Financing

Berlin, Conn. (AP)—To pay taxes on some land this town owns in the nearby city of Middletown, First Selectman John W. Graham was authorized to ask the board of finance for an increased appropriation. The board had allowed $3 for the taxes. The tax bill was $3.58.

Y Fund $16,000, Rylance Chosen For Second Term

The most recent report on the YMCA financial campaign for 1954 revealed last night that more than $16,000 has been collected to carry on the year's program.

Latest contributions noted were for $700, which helped swell the total to the figure made public at the June meeting of the board of directors presided over by President Elmer Rylance, who was reelected for another year.

Twelve members of the board were present, two staff members, Frank Sharwell, assistant at the front office and Chairman Chester Baltz, Jr., of the recent drive for funds.

It was reported that solicitors are still following through on appeals for donations.

All Reelected

President Rylance was chosen for another term, it was reported by Alfred Schmidt, chairman of the nominating committee, and the whole panel of those serving with him: Herbert DeKay, vice president; Clifford G. Smith, secretary; Robert C. Murray, treasurer.

The president's chair was occupied during the election by George Silkworth.

President Rylance expressed appreciation for cooperation he received during his term and hoped that it would continue.

Adjournment was taken until September, with provision that the executive committee act with power in any emergency.

Dulling the Gloss

You can give ordinary gloss varnish a dull finish by rubbing it when dry and hard with powdered rhinestone and oil.

Hardwood Floor Care

Don't scrub hardwood floors with soap and water if you want to keep them looking their gleaming best, authorities on floor maintenance advise. Such treatment, especially if repeated often, may mar the finish and roughen the surface of the wood. Use a wax base preparation for cleaning.

CALLING ALL DERRICKS— Wreckers had struggle to remove auto which rolled driverless down hill, jumped high curb and wall and stopped on a front lawn at Hannibal, Mo.

GREETING MISS AMERICA— Evelyn Ay, Miss America of 1954, who claims she's "pretty good" at milking cows, gets buss from a Jersey calf at a dairy festival in Eatonton, Ga.

WEST BERLIN HAM—"Angeli von Reddinghausen," snooty entry in a poodle beauty contest, raises paw on meeting a young visitor, keeping an eye all the time on the camera.

Cauliflower Salad

Raw cauliflower tastes good in a salad when it is teamed with orange slices, green pepper strips and celery crescents. After washing the cauliflower in cold water and draining, separate it into small flowerets. Serve this salad with a tangy French dressing and lettuce or romaine.

A blue whale consumes as much as a ton of food a day.

Some Pointers On Upholstery

Now is the time to plan for reupholstering where it's needed in your home.

There is nothing that can make a room look more tired and discouraging than to have springs sagging below the bottom edge, or to see bulges appearing on the seat or back of your favorite chair.

Here are some pointers that will be helpful to you when selecting upholstery fabrics for the reupholstering job.

Tapestries are always good, especially in the new softer colors which can be safely combined with any number of other colors.

Heavy velvets and damasks are wonderful, as are the matellasses and brocatelles.

For the modern pieces or for the modern touch in a traditional room, there's textured cloths, tweed weaves and novelties, and a good choice of both traditional and modern designs with small-figured geometrics and florals in brocade for small pieces.

Suitability of the fabric for the furniture is an important consideration in selection.

Be sure you have a plan, and swatches wherever possible, of the colors of rugs, draperies and other pieces of furniture in the room.

Before you make a final selection, it's a good idea to take home swatches of the fabric. Look at them in their future setting by both day and night lighting.

Some forms of meat tenderizers work like digestive juices and constitute a form of predigestion.

Natural Wood Finish

Pupils Study Movie Projection at Sunset Drive-in Twenty members of the Projectionist Club of George Washington School are guests at Sunset Drive-in Theatre, Route 28, to observe operation of the latest in RCA sound equipment on invitation of Manager Robert W. Case, who also treated them at the refreshery. With Case in the rear are Principal Ambrose J. Boyd of the school and Lou Meyers, projectionist, who explained operation of equipment in the movie booth.

Dulling the Gloss

Hardwood Floor Care

Don't scrub hardwood floors with soap and water if you want to keep them looking their gleaming best, authorities on floor maintenance advise. Such treatment, especially if repeated often, may mar the finish and roughen the surface of the wood. Use a wax base preparation for cleaning.

CALLING ALL DERRICKS— Wreckers had struggle to remove auto which rolled driverless down hill, jumped high curb and wall and stopped on a front lawn at Hannibal, Mo.

GREETING MISS AMERICA— Evelyn Ay, Miss America of 1954, who claims she's "pretty good" at milking cows, gets buss from a Jersey calf at a dairy festival in Eatonton, Ga.

WEST BERLIN HAM—"Angeli von Reddinghausen," snooty entry in a poodle beauty contest, raises paw on meeting a young visitor, keeping an eye all the time on the camera.

Cauliflower Salad

Raw cauliflower tastes good in a salad when it is teamed with orange slices, green pepper strips and celery crescents. After washing the cauliflower in cold water and draining, separate it into small flowerets. Serve this salad with a tangy French dressing and lettuce or romaine.

A blue whale consumes as much as a ton of food a day.

Some Pointers On Upholstery

Now is the time to plan for reupholstering where it's needed in your home.

There is nothing that can make a room look more tired and discouraging than to have springs sagging below the bottom edge, or to see bulges appearing on the seat or back of your favorite chair.

Here are some pointers that will be helpful to you when selecting upholstery fabrics for the reupholstering job.

The fabrics must be sturdy.

Tapestries are always good, especially in the new softer colors which can be safely combined with any number of other colors.

Heavy velvets and damasks are wonderful, as are the matellasses and brocatelles.

For the modern pieces or for the modern touch in a traditional room, there's textured cloths, tweed weaves and novelties, and a good choice of both traditional and modern designs with small-figured geometrics and florals in brocade for small pieces.

Shoddy cloths will quickly wear out and lose their shape, regardless or fine and expert reupholstering.

Upholstery fabrics with smooth surfaces are much easier to keep clean than those with rough surfaces.

Suitability of the fabric for the furniture is an important consideration in selection.

Be sure you have a plan, and swatches wherever possible, of the colors of rugs, draperies and other pieces of furniture in the room.

Before you make a final selection, it's a good idea to take home swatches of the fabric. Look at them in their future setting by both day and night lighting.

Some forms of meat tenderizers work like digestive juices and constitute a form of predigestion.

Natural Wood Finish

In the kitchens of many of the new ranch-type homes, natural wood finishes are becoming popular. In many cases the semi-gloss or low-sheen finish has become more desirable than a high-gloss finish.

NOTICE OF CHANGES IN ELECTRIC AND GAS RATE SCHEDULES

Amendments to rate schedule P.S.C. No. 11—Electricity issued June 11, 1953 to become effective July 1, 1954 add Service Classification No. 5, Transmission Line Power Rate, applicable to service delivered at 69,000 volts directly from the company's main transmission lines in which the rate includes a monthly demand charge of $1.53 gross, $1.50 net per Kw., energy charges of .88c gross, .865c net per Kwh. for the first 1,000,000 Kwh. per month and any additional monthly usage which is not in excess of 360 hours use of the demand and .675c gross, .665c net per Kwh. for any remaining usage; and a fuel adjustment of .01c per Kwh. for each .25c by which the average cost of coal at the company's Danskammer Point Steam Generating Station exceeds $8.90 per net ton. The demand is 85% of the maximum monthly Kva. demand during designated on-peak hours plus one-fourth of any additional monthly Kva. demand during other hours but not less than 250 Kvs. during four months of each year designated by the customer and 2,000 Kvs. during any months not so designated.

These amendments also modify Service Classification No. 3, Large Power and Light Rate, by eliminating Special Provision 3.2 which has provided a reduction of 5% in the charges under this classification for service delivered at 66,000 volts directly from a main transmission line.

An amendment to rate schedule P.S.C. No. 11—Electricity issued June 3, 1954 to become effective July 3, 1954 adds Section 15 to the general regulations in that schedule providing (1) that additional facilities will be constructed when the company cannot be assured that the business to be served will be permanent or unusual expenditures are necessary to supply the service only when applicant or customer makes an adequate contribution toward the cost of such facilities, or guarantees continued payment of bills for electric service, or makes other satisfactory arrangements sufficient to warrant the company undertaking the investment and expense involved; (2) that a customer shall give reasonable advance notice of any proposed increase in the amount of his service requirements; and (3) that a customer may be required to contribute to the cost of adding or enlarging facilities needed for his sole use if the proposed increase in load exceeds 150 kilowatts and the company is not satisfactorily assured that the taking of increased service will be of sufficient duration to render its supply compensatory to the company.

An amendment to rate schedule P.S.C. No. 11—Gas issued June 3, 1954 to become effective July 3, 1954 adds Section 12 to the general regulations in that schedule providing that additional facilities will be constructed when the company cannot be assured that the business to be served will be permanent or unusual expenditures are necessary to supply the service only when applicant or customer makes an adequate contribution toward the cost of such facilities, or guarantees continued payment of bills for gas service, or makes other satisfactory arrangements sufficient to warrant the company undertaking the investment and expense involved.

Passport Is Taken

New York, June 17 (AP)—Federal officials today picked up the U. S. passport of Col. Hubert F. Julian, Negro flier known as the "Black Eagle" of Harlem, and Julian announced he would seek denaturalization. The action apparently resulted from the shipment of arms from Communist-dominated Poland to Guatemala. Julian said last month that he we Guatemala's military purchasing agent.

Hall Expects Drive

Washington, June 17 (AP)—Leonard W. Hall, chairman of the Republican National Committee, said at the White House today he believes "there will be quite a drive" to persuade Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York to seek another term. Hall told newsmen Dewey is "the best candidate" available, and added: "I hope he'll run." Reports have been circulating in New York that Dewey would retire at the end of his term and enter private law practice.

Bill Is Approved

Washington, June 17 (AP)—The House approved by voice vote yesterday a bill to authorize a three-year program of surplus farm products disposal. A billion dollars worth could be sold and 300 millions worth given to friendly nations. The Senate has approved a one-year program contemplating disposal of 500 million dollars worth of surpluses, under somewhat different conditions. The differences between the two versions probably will be worked out by a Senate-House Conference Committee.

NOTICE OF CHANGES IN ELECTRIC AND GAS RATE SCHEDULES

Amendments to rate schedule P.S.C. No. 11—Electricity issued June 11, 1953 to become effective July 1, 1954 add Service Classification No. 5, Transmission Line Power Rate, applicable to service delivered at 69,000 volts directly from the company's main transmission lines in which the rate includes a monthly demand charge of $1.53 gross, $1.50 net per Kw.; energy charges of .88c gross, .865c net per Kwh. for the first 1,000,000 Kwh. per month and any additional monthly usage which is not in excess of 360 hours use of the demand and .675c gross, .665c net per Kwh. for any remaining usage; and a fuel adjustment of .01c per Kwh. for each .25c by which the average cost of coal at the company's Danskammer Point Steam Generating Station exceeds $8.90 per net ton. The demand is 85% of the maximum monthly Kva. demand during designated on-peak hours plus one-fourth of any additional monthly Kva. demand during other hours but not less than 250 Kvs. during four months of each year designated by the customer and 2,000 Kvs. during any months not so designated.

These amendments also modify Service Classification No. 3, Large Power and Light Rate, by eliminating Special Provision 3.2 which has provided a reduction of 5% in the charges under this classification for service delivered at 66,000 volts directly from a main transmission line.

An amendment to rate schedule P.S.C. No. 11—Electricity issued June 3, 1954 to become effective July 3, 1954 adds Section 15 to the general regulations in that schedule providing (1) that additional facilities will be constructed when the company cannot be assured that the business to be served will be permanent or unusual expenditures are necessary to supply the service only when applicant or customer makes an adequate contribution toward the cost of such facilities, or guarantees continued payment of bills for electric service, or makes other satisfactory arrangements sufficient to warrant the company undertaking the investment and expense involved; (2) that a customer shall give reasonable advance notice of any proposed increase in the amount of his service requirements; and (3) that a customer may be required to contribute to the cost of adding or enlarging facilities needed for his sole use if the proposed increase in load exceeds 150 kilowatts and the company is not satisfactorily assured that the taking of increased service will be of sufficient duration to render its supply compensatory to the company.

An amendment to rate schedule P.S.C. No. 11—Gas issued June 3, 1954 to become effective July 3, 1954 adds Section 12 to the general regulations in that schedule providing that additional facilities will be constructed when the company cannot be assured that the business to be served will be permanent or unusual expenditures are necessary to supply the service only when applicant or customer makes an adequate contribution toward the cost of such facilities, or guarantees continued payment of bills for gas service, or makes other satisfactory arrangements sufficient to warrant the company undertaking the investment and expense involved.

Passport Is Taken

New York, June 17 (AP)—Federal officials today picked up the U. S. passport of Col. Hubert F. Julian, Negro flier known as the "Black Eagle" of Harlem, and Julian announced he would seek denaturalization. The action apparently resulted from the shipment of arms from Communist-dominated Poland to Guatemala. Julian said last month that he we Guatemala's military purchasing agent.

Hall Expects Drive

Washington, June 17 (AP)—Leonard W. Hall, chairman of the Republican National Committee, said at the White House today he believes "there will be quite a drive" to persuade Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York to seek another term. Hall told newsmen Dewey is "the best candidate" available, and added: "I hope he'll run." Reports have been circulating in New York that Dewey would retire at the end of his term and enter private law practice.

Bill Is Approved

Washington, June 17 (AP)—The House approved by voice vote yesterday a bill to authorize a three-year program of surplus farm products disposal. A billion dollars worth could be sold and 300 millions worth given to friendly nations. The Senate has approved a one-year program contemplating disposal of 500 million dollars worth of surpluses, under somewhat different conditions. The differences between the two versions probably will be worked out by a Senate-House Conference Committee.

Charles Primed for Final Chance to Regain Heavyweight Crown

'Now or Never,' Manager Of Former Champion Says

New York, June 17 (AP)—Ezzard Charles bucks the explosive power of heavyweight king Rocky Marciano and a 54-year-old tradition of the ring tonight in a final try to become the first ex-champion to regain boxing's most prized crown. The odds are 5 to 18 that he fails.

"It's now or never for Ezzard," said co-manager Tom Tannas. "He knows it's his last chance and he's never been so determined before. He's right on edge. I hope we don't get any rain to spoil it."

The forecast is for fair and warmer although an earlier prediction by the weatherman called for a threat of late evening thundershowers. But possible postponement which could force a week's setback of the 15-round title fight in Yankee Stadium was uppermost in the minds of the principals and promoters as they anxiously peered at the sky. A canopy was placed above the ring to keep the canvas dry.

40,000 Are Expected

After months of hard training, the gladiators were ready for boxing's biggest and most dramatic show. A rainstorm and a delay until next Thursday meant losing that razor edge they've drilled so long for. It could put a big dent in the receipts, too.

The promoting International Boxing Club said it will go up to the ball park this evening with $400,000 in the till. Promoter Jim Norris is looking for a 40,000 crowd and $500,000 at the gate with a break from the weatherman.

In addition to the gate receipts the fighters will share (Marciano 40 per cent, Charles 20) in close to $200,000 from the coast-to-coast theatre-television, $35,000 from the network (ABC) radio broadcast, and a possible bonanza from the movies if the fight is sensational.

No Home TV

There will be no home television of the undefeated Marciano's third title defense. The bout will start at 10:30 p. m., EDT (9:30 p. m., EST).

How does the 32-year-old Charles intend to fight the strong, brawling, blitz-minded Marciano who has won 40 of his 45 bouts by knockouts? That's the big question. Charles is the enigma of this production. Everyone knows the muscular, power-packing Rocky will come out winging, trying to end it with every punch he throws.

His power is so respected that he's rated a 5 to 12 choice to stop Charles. It's 6 to 1 that Rocky won't be stopped.

Will Charles elect to box, hoping to hold off Rocky's bulling drives? Or will he try and match bombs with the bomber?

Naturally Charles won't tell. He did say "I've had the idea for a long time how I'll fight him." Eight former champs—including Charles—have tried and failed to regain their heavyweight crown.

Realizes Rocky's Power

In talking of Rocky's power, Ezzard said "I know he can hit. I can hit, too."

"If he tries to punch with Rocky, it will be suicide," said Joe Louis who lost to both. "If he fights Rocky like he fought me, using his left and moving, he has a chance. I like Marciano in 10."

Dempsey Takes Champ

"I like Marciano in 10," said Jack Dempsey, "but I've got to give Charles a chance because of Rocky's inactivity. I was far off my best form when I lost my title to Gene Tunney. There's nothing like fighting to stay at the top. One regular fight is worth four months of training."

Rocky has fought a total of 12 rounds since he won the title by flattening Jersey Joe Walcott in 13 rounds in Philadelphia, Sept. 23, 1952. He racked up Walcott in one round in Chicago, May 15, 1953, and then needed 11 to stop Roland La Starza in New York, Sept. 24, 1953.

Marciano probably will weigh 186 pounds and Charles 189.

Adois Boy Beaten

Westbury, June 17 (AP)—Adois Boy, who set a world record of 2:03 last year for 2-year-old pacers, was beaten last night at Roosevelt Raceway in his first start as a 3-year-old. He finished second by a length to So Long's Lad, a 4-year-old gelding driven by Ben Turlington. Mamscot was third. Adois Boy was pocketed on the final turn and failed to get out in time to catch the winner. So Long's Lad paid $10, $3.50 and $3.20 and paced the mile in 2:03. Stenographer, early favorite for the Hambletonian in August, finished 4th in another race won by Queens Joy.

Seeks Title Bout

Detroit, June 17 (AP)—Promoter Nick Londes flew to New York today to start negotiations for a Kid Gavilan-Del Flanagan title fight in Detroit this fall. The motor city—a hot sports town—hasn't had a title fight since March, 1951, when Ezzard Charles defended his title against Jersey Joe Walcott. Londes feels a go between Flanagan, second ranking welterweight contender, and Gavilan, the champion, would fill Detroit's Olympia Stadium.

Lloyd Waner of the Pittsburgh Pirates made 223 hits his first season in the big leagues (1927). This is a record for first-year players.

Stan Musial returned to first base for the first time since 1952 because of rookie Tom Alston's batting slump.

Joneses Win on Bechtold's One-Hitter

Hagen Tabs Hogan For National Open

Ex-Champ Lauds Plucky Texan

Springfield, N. J., June 17 (AP)—Thirty years after he won his only National Open golf championship, Walter Hagen today tabbed Ben Hogan as the man to beat in the 54th National Open, starting today at Baltusrol.

Hagen, more interested in cutting up touches with some of his old cronies than in picking winners, merely strung along with the majority in picking Hogan to win his fifth Open title. But a note of admiration crept into Sir Walter's voice as he talked about the trim little Texan.

Says Hogan Smart

"Like you, Walter," suggested Bobby Cruickshank.

Hagen nodded agreement and added: "He's got the game, too. Those other fellows are out there playing practice rounds. Ben already has played the course the way it will be for the tournament.

"I think he's smart not to practice in this cold wind. If you're not on the stick the day before a tournament, you're not going to be on it."

The lengthy Baltusrol lower course, where 162 of the nation's top golfers began competition today and where one will be crowned champion, isn't the same as the courses Hagen played in the 1915 and 1936 opens. The original Baltusrol course was torn up in 1920 and what is now the upper course was used in 1936.

This one is a 7,027-yard terror, especially if the weather remains damp and windy, as it was for yesterday's final practice rounds. The chilly east wind, blowing against the players on the two long finishing holes, made it difficult to approach the tournament par of 34-36—70.

So far only Hogan has dared to predict that his open record of 276 for the 72 holes will be threatened here. Most of the others say 284 should be good enough to win and some predictions have run much higher.

Weather Seen Vital

The weather could have an important bearing—not only on the scoring conditions but on the physical condition of some of the leading contestants. Regardless of the quality of the field, the 54th Open figures to be a duel between defending champion Hogan and overdue Sammy Snead until someone else comes along to prove otherwise.

Hogan, recently recovered from a virus illness, still is nursing his health. Snead, suffering from a painful "crick" in his neck, undoubtedly would be more comfortable in hot weather.

Boice Hurls Shutout for Moose Lodge

Moose Lodge went into undisputed possession of first place in the American Little League standings Wednesday night when Charlie Boice authored a four-hit shutout for his teammates over Electrol. The Moose won it by 3 to 0.

The winners put over the deciding markers in the third when Joe DeCicco walked and scored when Vince Smedes committed an error in center on a fly hit by Mike Carpino. Carpino later tallied on a wild pitch. The Moose Lodge added another in the fifth to complete the scoring.

Actually, the Moose Lodge team was out-hit by 4 to 2 but they still pay off on runs. Mike Amato dished up the two hits to the winners but was the victim of some faulty play on his team's defense.

Joe DeCicco and Mike Ferraro picked up the only hits off Amato. Mike Amato, Jay Neer, Walt Harder and Vince Smedes stroked singles for the losers.

Hollywood Child!

North Hollywood, Calif. (AP)—Carol Koplin, 4, sometimes gets a colored fruit drink as a reward for good behavior, with the understanding that it's a cocktail to be enjoyed with Mom and Dad. When she appeared on her parents' television show to sing a song, they told her if she sang well she'd get a cocktail right after the program. Carol sang well and as Dad told the audience that Hollywood youngsters were really no different than any others Carol yelled for all to hear, "Daddy, I want my cocktail."

Dairymen Score Two in Sixth Over Panthers

A two-run outburst in the top half of the sixth inning, combined with a stellar one-hit pitching performance by Bruce Bechtold, gave Jones Dairy at 2 to 0 victory over the New York Panthers Wednesday night at Athletic Field. It was the Diarymen's second straight league triumph.

Bechtold hooked up in a sizzling pitcher's duel with Bob Maines and it was anybody's game until the two-run uprising.

Retires 11 in Row

Bechtold fanned seven of the first nine batters to face him and retired the first 11 men to face him as he showed plenty of stuff.

With Bechtold and Maines giving up very little to take a toe hold at the plate, the game breezed along at a fast clip with only a couple of scoring chances until the sixth.

A terrific catch by Bob Bondar, however, in the first inning saved Maines from some trouble when Nippy Jones lined a drive near the right field foul line. In the third inning, the Dairymen threatened again when Mike Carlino walked, went to second on an error but died there when Sal Misasi grounded out.

DP Halts Rally

It looked like another scoring chance for the Dairymen in the fifth when Joe Benjamin singled and Bechtold reached on Maines' error. Mike Carlino tried to move the runners along but rapped into a twin-killing. Bondar made another neat catch in right to end the threat.

Brodhead broke up Bechtold's bid for a no-hitter in the fifth when he singled and advanced to second on Maines' infield out. Brodhead went to third on a wild pitch but expired when Bechtold struck out Godwin and Haber to end the frame.

T. Carlino Triples

Tom Carlino got Joneses off to a good start in the sixth when he walloped a long triple to left and scored on Sal Misasi's one-baser. Ron Mauro beat out a hit to the infield and Benjimin singled to load the sacks. Bechtold singled home Mauro for the second and final run.

Except for his sixth inning lapse Maines also pitched a stellar ball game. He gave up a total of six hits to Carlino, Misasi, Mauro, Benjamin (2) and Bechtold.

Chezzies Win, Skyline Takes Fifth for Lead

Chez Emile fought off a stubborn Perry's outfit for a 9 to 8 victory to remain on top in the National Softball League Wednesday night while the Skylines continued on the victory trail with their fifth straight to take over first place in the American Division.

The offensive story of the night, however, was Tommy "Gawk" Maines, erstwhile KHS star athlete, who walloped three straight homers in his first three trips to the plate for Subway Grill, 23 to 2 winners over Gene's in a game for which the boxscore was submitted to this sports department today.

In other clashes, Alpine downed Bence's 5 to 4, Cherny's subdued Kaplan Bag by 9 to 8 and the Legion trimmed Electrol, 10 to 9 in a free-hitting fray.

After taking a 6-3 lead, the Chezzies had to bounce back with single runs in the fifth, sixth and seventh frames to take the 9-8 win over Perry's. T. Musto and Fred Schryver belted triples while doubles were collected by George Glaser, B. Tomaseskie, Ron Scheffel, Bill Slover, B. Gill, Fred Schryver and A. Hansen. Ben Freer got the decision over Bob Slover.

Big Inning Wins

The improved Skylines pushed over 10 runs in the first inning to coast to a 13 to 6 conquest of the Cedar Rest. Champ Holstein paced the winners with "5 for 5" while Jim Woods, who has hit at least twice in every game, went "3 for 5." Bob Dickerson spanked a triple for the winners while Champ Holstein (2), John Burris and Bob Burns stroked doubles. Don Osterhoudt and Don Wolf divided the mound chores for the winners while Bob Dickerson went the route for the Cedar Rest.

Trailing 10 to 4 going into the first half of the seventh, the Electrol nearly upended the Legion with a five-run outburst but fell one run short to lose 10 to 9. Two of the Electrol runs were homers by Ange Corrado and Jim Markle. Bob Kremper also had a homer for the losers. Ange Corrado, Joe Fautz and Andy Murphy hit doubles. Cliff Davis and Joe Fautz each collected three hits for the winners. Corrado and Brooks paced the losers. Charlie Bock hurled the win while Ira Dressen absorbed the loss.

Alpines Take First

The Alpine finally registered its first win of the year in a 5 to 4 squeaker over Bence's. Don Koeppen set the stage for the winning run when he opened the seventh with a hit, stole second, went to third on a sacrifice and scored on an infield grounder. Letus, McArdle and Clere each had two hits for the winners while Golgoski and Hahn picked up two apiece for Bence's. Koeppen got the decision over Venuti.

Cherny's rallied with a pair of runs in the last half of the seventh to set back Kaplans, 9 to 8. Jerry Kaplan and Leiry had homers. P. Houghtaling sparked the winners with four hits while McClaren and McCardle each had three apiece. Kaplan, Sheinvold, Rose and S. Kaplan had two apiece for the losers.

Rarely has the future looked so rosy for the Cleveland Indians.

The cripples are coming back with a bang. The club has a three game hold on first place. And the next eight games are against second division teams.

The Indians ran their current winning streak to seven last night with a 5-1 victory over Washington that marked the return to partial action of Bobby Avila, the league's leading hitter.

AJ Rosen made his first appearance in almost two weeks the night before. He's last year's most valuable player in the American League and is running second to Avila in hitting.

Avila, on the bench with a chipped thumb, came in as a runner and stayed around to bat once. He delivered a two-run single.

Rosen drove in three runs as a pinch hitter Tuesday night and singled once in two tries last night.

The other two teams in the three-team American League race also won yesterday. Second place Chicago beat Philadelphia 11-6 and the New York Yankees edged Baltimore 2-0. Last place Boston broke an 8-game losing streak with a 3-2 victory at Detroit.

Giants Hold Lead

The New York Giants stayed atop the National League with a 4-0 verdict over Cincinnati. Brooklyn remained a game behind the Giants by whipping Milwaukee 8-4. St. Louis at Philadelphia and Chicago at Pittsburgh were rained out.

Home runs by Lou Limmer and Bill Renna helped the Athletics build a 6-4 lead in Chicago but the White Sox wiped it out with a 7-run seventh as Ferris Fain hit an inside the park home run with the bases loaded. The loss was the first for Philadelphia in six games.

Ford Adds to Streak

Hits were scarce in Baltimore with each side getting only three. But the Yankees bunched theirs in the fifth inning for the only runs. Whitey Ford ran his string of scoreless innings to 20 in winning his fifth game.

Yogi Berra's single, a double by Gene Woodling, a single by Irv Noren and a force out produced the runs off Duane Pillette.

Three errors contributed to the Tigers' downfall against the Red Sox. Willard Nixon picked up his fifth victory and became the first Boston pitcher to last 9 innings since June 7.

Hearn Finds Stuff

The winning spirit of the Giants seems to be infectious. Jim Hearn, who hadn't pitched a complete game since last August, stopped the Redlegs on four hits—all singles. New York scored three runs in the second inning against Joe Nuxhall on doubles by Whitey Lockman and Davey Williams, a pair of singles and a sacrifice fly by Ray Katt. Katt added the fourth run with a homer in the sixth.

The Dodgers beat the Braves into submission with home runs. They hit five, equaling the club's all time high for one game. Duke Snider started the parade in the first inning and Gil Hodges, Don Hoak, Pee Wee Reese and Roy Campanella joined in the fun.

Golf Schedule For Herdegen Due on Friday

The semi-finals are set Saturday, June 26, at Twaalfskill, with finals at Woodstock Sunday, June 27.

Charles Primed for Final Chance to Regain Heavyweight Crown

'Now or Never,' Manager Of Former Champion Says

New York, June 17 (AP)—Ezzard Charles bucks the explosive power of heavyweight king Rocky Marciano and a 54-year-old tradition of the ring tonight in a final try to become the first ex-champion to regain boxing's most prized crown. The odds are 5 to 18 that he fails.

"It's now or never for Ezzard," said co-manager Tom Tannas. "He knows it's his last chance and he's never been so determined before. He's right on edge. I hope we don't get any rain to spoil it."

The forecast is for fair and warmer although an earlier prediction by the weatherman called for a threat of late evening thundershowers. But possible postponement which could force a week's setback of the 15-round title fight in Yankee Stadium was uppermost in the minds of the principals and promoters as they anxiously peered at the sky. A canopy was placed above the ring to keep the canvas dry.

40,000 Are Expected

After months of hard training, the gladiators were ready for boxing's biggest and most dramatic show. A rainstorm and a delay until next Thursday meant losing that razor edge they've drilled so long for. It could put a big dent in the receipts, too.

The promoting International Boxing Club said it will go up to the ball park this evening with $400,000 in the till. Promoter Jim Norris is looking for a 40,000 crowd and $500,000 at the gate with a break from the weatherman.

In addition to the gate receipts the fighters will share (Marciano 40 per cent, Charles 20) in close to $200,000 from the coast-to-coast theatre-television, $35,000 from the network (ABC) radio broadcast, and a possible bonanza from the movies if the fight is sensational.

No Home TV

There will be no home television of the undefeated Marciano's third title defense. The bout will start at 10:30 p. m., EDT (9:30 p. m., EST).

How does the 32-year-old Charles intend to fight the strong, brawling, blitz-minded Marciano who has won 40 of his 45 bouts by knockouts? That's the big question. Charles is the enigma of this production. Everyone knows the muscular, power-packing Rocky will come out winging, trying to end it with every punch he throws.

His power is so respected that he's rated a 5 to 12 choice to stop Charles. It's 6 to 1 that Rocky won't be stopped.

Will Charles elect to box, hoping to hold off Rocky's bulling drives? Or will he try and match bombs with the bomber?

Naturally Charles won't tell. He did say "I've had the idea for a long time how I'll fight him." Eight former champs—including Charles—have tried and failed to regain their heavyweight crown.

Realizes Rocky's Power

In talking of Rocky's power, Ezzard said "I know he can hit. I can hit, too."

"If he tries to punch with Rocky, it will be suicide," said Joe Louis who lost to both. "If he fights Rocky like he fought me, using his left and moving, he has a chance. I like Marciano in 10."

Dempsey Takes Champ

"I like Marciano in 10," said Jack Dempsey, "but I've got to give Charles a chance because of Rocky's inactivity. I was far off my best form when I lost my title to Gene Tunney. There's nothing like fighting to stay at the top. One regular fight is worth four months of training."

Rocky has fought a total of 12 rounds since he won the title by flattening Jersey Joe Walcott in 13 rounds in Philadelphia, Sept. 23, 1952. He racked up Walcott in one round in Chicago, May 15, 1953, and then needed 11 to stop Roland La Starza in New York, Sept. 24, 1953.

Marciano probably will weigh 186 pounds and Charles 189.

Adois Boy Beaten

Westbury, June 17 (AP)—Adois Boy, who set a world record of 2:03 last year for 2-year-old pacers, was beaten last night at Roosevelt Raceway in his first start as a 3-year-old. He finished second by a length to So Long's Lad, a 4-year-old gelding driven by Ben Turlington. Mamscot was third. Adois Boy was pocketed on the final turn and failed to get out in time to catch the winner. So Long's Lad paid $10, $3.50 and $3.20 and paced the mile in 2:03. Stenographer, early favorite for the Hambletonian in August, finished 4th in another race won by Queens Joy.

Norm Sonju, University of Wisconsin rowing coach, was a prospector for gold in Alaska after graduating from college.

Seeks Title Bout

Detroit, June 17 (AP)—Promoter Nick Londes flew to New York today to start negotiations for a Kid Gavilan-Del Flanagan title fight in Detroit this fall. The motor city—a hot sports town—hasn't had a title fight since March, 1951, when Ezzard Charles defended his title against Jersey Joe Walcott. Londes feels a go between Flanagan, second ranking welterweight contender, and Gavilan, the champion, would fill Detroit's Olympia Stadium.

Lloyd Waner of the Pittsburgh Pirates made 223 hits his first season in the big leagues (1927). This is a record for first-year players.

Stan Musial returned to first base for the first time since 1952 because of rookie Tom Alston's batting slump.

Hagen Tabs Hogan For National Open

Ex-Champ Lauds Plucky Texan

Springfield, N. J., June 17 (AP)—Thirty years after he won his only National Open golf championship, Walter Hagen today tabbed Ben Hogan as the man to beat in the 54th National Open, starting today at Baltusrol.

Hagen, more interested in cutting up touches with some of his old cronies than in picking winners, merely strung along with the majority in picking Hogan to win his fifth Open title. But a note of admiration crept into Sir Walter's voice as he talked about the trim little Texan.

Says Hogan Smart

"Like you, Walter," suggested Bobby Cruickshank.

Hagen nodded agreement and added: "He's got the game, too. Those other fellows are out there playing practice rounds. Ben already has played the course the way it will be for the tournament.

"I think he's smart not to practice in this cold wind. If you're not on the stick the day before a tournament, you're not going to be on it."

The lengthy Baltusrol lower course, where 162 of the nation's top golfers began competition today and where one will be crowned champion, isn't the same as the courses Hagen played in the 1915 and 1936 opens. The original Baltusrol course was torn up in 1920 and what is now the upper course was used in 1936.

This one is a 7,027-yard terror, especially if the weather remains damp and windy, as it was for yesterday's final practice rounds. The chilly east wind, blowing against the players on the two long finishing holes, made it difficult to approach the tournament par of 34-36—70.

So far only Hogan has dared to predict that his open record of 276 for the 72 holes will be threatened here. Most of the others say 284 should be good enough to win and some predictions have run much higher.

Weather Seen Vital

The weather could have an important bearing—not only on the scoring conditions but on the physical condition of some of the leading contestants. Regardless of the quality of the field, the 54th Open figures to be a duel between defending champion Hogan and overdue Sammy Snead until someone else comes along to prove otherwise.

Hogan, recently recovered from a virus illness, still is nursing his health. Snead, suffering from a painful "crick" in his neck, undoubtedly would be more comfortable in hot weather.

Boice Hurls Shutout for Moose Lodge

Moose Lodge went into undisputed possession of first place in the American Little League standings Wednesday night when Charlie Boice authored a four-hit shutout for his teammates over Electrol. The Moose won it by 3 to 0.

The winners put over the deciding markers in the third when Joe DeCicco walked and scored when Vince Smedes committed an error in center on a fly hit by Mike Carpino. Carpino later tallied on a wild pitch. The Moose Lodge added another in the fifth to complete the scoring.

Actually, the Moose Lodge team was out-hit by 4 to 2 but they still pay off on runs. Mike Amato dished up the two hits to the winners but was the victim of some faulty play on his team's defense.

Joe DeCicco and Mike Ferraro picked up the only hits off Amato. Mike Amato, Jay Neer, Walt Harder and Vince Smedes stroked singles for the losers.

Hollywood Child!

North Hollywood, Calif. (AP)—Carol Koplin, 4, sometimes gets a colored fruit drink as a reward for good behavior, with the understanding that it's a cocktail to be enjoyed with Mom and Dad. When she appeared on her parents' television show to sing a song, they told her if she sang well she'd get a cocktail right after the program. Carol sang well and as Dad told the audience that Hollywood youngsters were really no different than any others Carol yelled for all to hear, "Daddy, I want my cocktail."

Dairymen Score Two in Sixth Over Panthers

A two-run outburst in the top half of the sixth inning, combined with a stellar one-hit pitching performance by Bruce Bechtold, gave Jones Dairy at 2 to 0 victory over the New York Panthers Wednesday night at Athletic Field. It was the Diarymen's second straight league triumph.

Bechtold hooked up in a sizzling pitcher's duel with Bob Maines and it was anybody's game until the two-run uprising.

The Jones Dairy ace breezed through the Panthers' batting array without allowing a hit until Skip Brodhead singled in the fifth.

Retires 11 in Row

Bechtold fanned seven of the first nine batters to face him and retired the first 11 men to face him as he showed plenty of stuff.

With Bechtold and Maines giving up very little to take a toe hold at the plate, the game breezed along at a fast clip with only a couple of scoring chances until the sixth.

A terrific catch by Bob Bondar, however, in the first inning saved Maines from some trouble when Nippy Jones lined a drive near the right field foul line. In the third inning, the Dairymen threatened again when Mike Carlino walked, went to second on an error but died there when Sal Misasi grounded out.

DP Halts Rally

It looked like another scoring chance for the Dairymen in the fifth when Joe Benjamin singled and Bechtold reached on Maines' error. Mike Carlino tried to move the runners along but rapped into a twin-killing. Bondar made another neat catch in right to end the threat.

Brodhead broke up Bechtold's bid for a no-hitter in the fifth when he singled and advanced to second on Maines' infield out. Brodhead went to third on a wild pitch but expired when Bechtold struck out Godwin and Haber to end the frame.

T. Carlino Triples

Tom Carlino got Joneses off to a good start in the sixth when he walloped a long triple to left and scored on Sal Misasi's one-baser. Ron Mauro beat out a hit to the infield and Benjimin singled to load the sacks. Bechtold singled home Mauro for the second and final run.

Except for his sixth inning lapse Maines also pitched a stellar ball game. He gave up a total of six hits to Carlino, Misasi, Mauro, Benjamin (2) and Bechtold.

Maines Hits 3 Homers

Chezzies Win, Skyline Takes Fifth for Lead

Chez Emile fought off a stubborn Perry's outfit for a 9 to 8 victory to remain on top in the National Softball League Wednesday night while the Skylines continued on the victory trail with their fifth straight to take over first place in the American Division.

The offensive story of the night, however, was Tommy "Gawk" Maines, erstwhile KHS star athlete, who walloped three straight homers in his first three trips to the plate for Subway Grill, 23 to 2 winners over Gene's in a game for which the boxscore was submitted to this sports department today.

In other clashes, Alpine downed Bence's 5 to 4, Cherny's subdued Kaplan Bag by 9 to 8 and the Legion trimmed Electrol, 10 to 9 in a free-hitting fray.

After taking a 6-3 lead, the Chezzies had to bounce back with single runs in the fifth, sixth and seventh frames to take the 9-8 win over Perry's. T. Musto and Fred Schryver belted triples while doubles were collected by George Glaser, B. Tomaseskie, Ron Scheffel, Bill Slover, B. Gill, Fred Schryver and A. Hansen. Ben Freer got the decision over Bob Slover.

Big Inning Wins

The improved Skylines pushed over 10 runs in the first inning to coast to a 13 to 6 conquest of the Cedar Rest. Champ Holstein paced the winners with "5 for 5" while Jim Woods, who has hit at least twice in every game, went "3 for 5." Bob Dickerson spanked a triple for the winners while Champ Holstein (2), John Burris and Bob Burns stroked doubles. Don Osterhoudt and Don Wolf divided the mound chores for the winners while Bob Dickerson went the route for the Cedar Rest.

Trailing 10 to 4 going into the first half of the seventh, the Electrol nearly upended the Legion with a five-run outburst but fell one run short to lose 10 to 9. Two of the Electrol runs were homers by Ange Corrado and Jim Markle. Bob Kremper also had a homer for the losers. Ange Corrado, Joe Fautz and Andy Murphy hit doubles. Cliff Davis and Joe Fautz each collected three hits for the winners. Corrado and Brooks paced the losers. Charlie Bock hurled the win while Ira Dressen absorbed the loss.

Alpines Take First

The Alpine finally registered its first win of the year in a 5 to 4 squeaker over Bence's. Don Koeppen set the stage for the winning run when he opened the seventh with a hit, stole second, went to third on a sacrifice and scored on an infield grounder. Letus, McArdle and Clere each had two hits for the winners while Golgoski and Hahn picked up two apiece for Bence's. Koeppen got the decision over Venuti.

Cherny's rallied with a pair of runs in the last half of the seventh to set back Kaplans, 9 to 8. Jerry Kaplan and Leiry had homers. P. Houghtaling sparked the winners with four hits while McClaren and McCardle each had three apiece. Kaplan, Sheinvold, Rose and S. Kaplan had two apiece for the losers.

THE SCOREBOARD

(By The Associated Press)

Rarely has the future looked so rosy for the Cleveland Indians.

The cripples are coming back with a bang. The club has a three game hold on first place. And the next eight games are against second division teams.

The Indians ran their current winning streak to seven last night with a 5-1 victory over Washington that marked the return to partial action of Bobby Avila, the league's leading hitter.

AJ Rosen made his first appearance in almost two weeks the night before. He's last year's most valuable player in the American League and is running second to Avila in hitting.

Avila, on the bench with a chipped thumb, came in as a runner and stayed around to bat once. He delivered a two-run single.

Rosen drove in three runs as a pinch hitter Tuesday night and singled once in two tries last night.

The other two teams in the three-team American League race also won yesterday. Second place Chicago beat Philadelphia 11-6 and the New York Yankees edged Baltimore 2-0. Last place Boston broke an 8-game losing streak with a 3-2 victory at Detroit.

Giants Hold Lead

The New York Giants stayed atop the National League with a 4-0 verdict over Cincinnati. Brooklyn remained a game behind the Giants by whipping Milwaukee 8-4. St. Louis at Philadelphia and Chicago at Pittsburgh were rained out.

Home runs by Lou Limmer and Bill Renna helped the Athletics build a 6-4 lead in Chicago but the White Sox wiped it out with a 7-run seventh as Ferris Fain hit an inside the park home run with the bases loaded. The loss was the first for Philadelphia in six games.

Ford Adds to Streak

Hits were scarce in Baltimore with each side getting only three. But the Yankees bunched theirs in the fifth inning for the only runs. Whitey Ford ran his string of scoreless innings to 20 in winning his fifth game.

Yogi Berra's single, a double by Gene Woodling, a single by Irv Noren and a force out produced the runs off Duane Pillette.

Three errors contributed to the Tigers' downfall against the Red Sox. Willard Nixon picked up his fifth victory and became the first Boston pitcher to last 9 innings since June 7.

Hearn Finds Stuff

The winning spirit of the Giants seems to be infectious. Jim Hearn, who hadn't pitched a complete game since last August, stopped the Redlegs on four hits—all singles. New York scored three runs in the second inning against Joe Nuxhall on doubles by Whitey Lockman and Davey Williams, a pair of singles and a sacrifice fly by Ray Katt. Katt added the fourth run with a homer in the sixth.

The Dodgers beat the Braves into submission with home runs. They hit five, equaling the club's all time high for one game. Duke Snider started the parade in the first inning and Gil Hodges, Don Hoak, Pee Wee Reese and Roy Campanella joined in the fun.

Mirons Gain Their First Win of Loop

The Miron Lumber Indians registered their first win of the season in the National Little League Wednesday night, turning in a 2 to 0 victory over the Island Dock Tigers.

Joe Avnet and Jack Fisher divided the pitching chores for the winners while Abe Levy worked for the Tigers. The three hurlers gave up a combined total of five hits. Levy registered two strikeout but walked five. Both Avnet and Fisher turned in four whiffs apiece and Avnet only gave up one walk to the losers. Fisher had perfect control.

After a scoreless first frame, the Indians pushed over what proved to be the deciding run in the second when Don Trowbridge singled, Tom Henry walked and Joe Avnet reached on an error as Trowbridge raced in with the big run.

The Indians came back in the third with an insurance run put together on a single and a walk. Dick Sickler worked Abe Levy for the free ticket and the run-producing singleton came off the bat of Jack Fisher.

Abe Levy and Ty Perry a double stroked the lone hits for Island Dock while Jack Fisher, Bill Boice and Don Trowbridge picked up the hits for the winners.

Stichman Asks Support

Monticello, June 17 (AP)—State Housing Commissioner Herman T. Stichman today urged the state's mayors to throw their weight behind the forthcoming housing referendum. The referendum, to be voted on in the fall general election, would provide a 200 million dollar increase in public housing and slum clearance loan funds. In an address prepared for the annual conference of mayors and other municipal officials, Stichman said the new money is needed because the existing 735 million dollar fund is nearly exhausted.

Mirons Gain Their First Win of Loop

The Miron Lumber Indians registered their first win of the season in the National Little League Wednesday night, turning in a 2 to 0 victory over the Island Dock Tigers.

Joe Avnet and Jack Fisher divided the pitching chores for the winners while Abe Levy worked for the Tigers. The three hurlers gave up a combined total of five hits. Levy registered two strikeout but walked five. Both Avnet and Fisher turned in four whiffs apiece and Avnet only gave up one walk to the losers. Fisher had perfect control.

After a scoreless first frame, the Indians pushed over what proved to be the deciding run in the second when Don Trowbridge singled, Tom Henry walked and Joe Avnet reached on an error as Trowbridge raced in with the big run.

The Indians came back in the third with an insurance run put together on a single and a walk. Dick Sickler worked Abe Levy for the free ticket and the run-producing singleton came off the bat of Jack Fisher.

Area Plant's Opening Set June 28

Another new building in the fast-growing section of the Albany avenue extension is the Fallsburg Bottling Works which will handle the branch wholesale distributorship of Rheingold beer throughout Ulster county. A branch plant of the main office of the South Fallsburg concern, the local business will have its grand opening Monday, June 28. The concern, which was founded in 1923 by Samuel Didinsky, who is the firm's president, has served Sullivan, Delaware, Orange and parts of Ulster county. The Fallsburg concern received the Ulster county dealership in January, 1953, and the new local plant is the result of that appointment. John Tiano of Kingston is the local plant's manager while Jerome Daley of Saugerties is the assistant manager. Charles Tiano, also of this city, is in charge of the office and warehouse. The firm's officers, in addition to President Didinsky, are George Didinsky, vice-president and Victor Didinsky, secretary-treasurer. (Freeman photo)

Vacation Deal

Pulaski, Va. (AP)—Ronald Smith, a newspaper carrier boy, wanted to take a vacation but his delivery route posed a problem. C. M. Hayter, 49, a customer, offered the solution—he would handle 13-year-old Ronald's route and Ronald would mow his lawn an agreed number of times.

Man Is Killed

New York, June 17 (AP)—A man identified through papers in his clothing as Gilbert Yates, 58, vice president of the Chemical Eank and Trust Co., jumped or fell to his death today beneath a subway train. Police said the man hurtled from the station platform to the tracks at a Lexington avenue subway train pulled into the East 77th street station. The motorman was unable to stop the train in time and three cars passed over the body. Rescuers had to jack up the third car to remove the body. Yates lived at 935 Park avenue.

Dr. Carpenter Dies

New York, June 17 (AP)—The Rev. Dr. J. Henry Carpenter, 61, Brooklyn churchman who once was denied a passport for a Far Eastern trip, died last night of a heart attack. He and his wife had been planning to leave on a trip to England next week to see a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Batchelder, and her son. Dr. Carpenter had been executive secretary of the Brooklyn Division of the Protestant Council of New York since 1932. It was in the spring of 1952 that he was denied a passport for a trip to Japan, where he said he had planned to visit church leaders and talk to youth groups.

Stichman Asks Support

Monticello, June 17 (AP)—State Housing Commissioner Herman T. Stichman today urged the state's mayors to throw their weight behind the forthcoming housing referendum. The referendum, to be voted on in the fall general election, would provide a 200 million dollar increase in public housing and slum clearance loan funds. In an address prepared for the annual conference of mayors and other municipal officials, Stichman said the new money is needed because the existing 735 million dollar fund is nearly exhausted.
